FOREWORD

It has been said that one picture will tell the story of ten thousand words. With this thought in mind, we have endeavored to capture and preserve the highlights of the past school year through the medium of photography. And so it is that once again, we present to you a memory book. It is our hope that you will treasure this book so that in years to come, you may live again your high school days. It is our wish that this memory book will bring only happiness to those who review unforgettable memories of the 1954 and 1955 school year.

—The Arrow Board

DEDICATION

Parents are "unsung heroes." Too often youth fails to acknowledge those people who are responsible for happiness and well-being of their lives.

Though we seldom express our appreciation in words, we nevertheless carry it in our minds and hearts.

We, the students of Central, would like to take this opportunity to salute our parents.

In so doing, we dedicate our 1955 Arrow to Mom and Dad. We hope that this small gesture will partially express our gratitude to them.

We wish to express our gratitude to those undercover men who take care of the little details necessary to make a school year successful. Their many duties include, budgeting the finances, undertaking improvements, and serving as that important link between parents and the school.

They Spin The Wheel

Hats off to Miss Laurretta Mundt who has given so unselfishly of her time and efforts to make Central a better school. Besides her duties of vice-principal, she serves as guidance counselor. In this role she administers comprehensive tests and gives those desiring it, private conferences. She is known to each of us as an adviser, inspirator and friend. Because of this understanding individual's help, our school year has been a truly successful one.

Jeanette Franzen

LeRoy Ludeman, completing his fourth year as principal at Central, has contributed much to bettering the academic and extra-curricular phases of Central High School's program. Because of his interest in young people and their problems, we sincerely appreciate the endeavors of this distinguished individual. Watching this "head of the office" at work, we are well aware of the many responsibilities he has undertaken in his position as principal. We realize that he has put much time and effort into his work, and it is our hope that the students of Central will always live up to the standards which he has up-held.

Le Roy Ludeman

Our thanks also to Jeanette Franzen who takes care of those seemingly unimportant but necessary details that are essential to a smooth-running school system.

Middle Class

The cooperative and striving juniors chose as their first semester class officers, Dennis Hansen, president; Don Monroe, vice-president; and Virginia Werth, secretary treasurer. Ricky Roesch was elected class representative for the entire year. These executives are shown taking a short breather from their many activities and responsibilities.

In the second semester vote, Dave Wolsky was the junior's choice to have the honor of leading the grand march in the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Helping Dave with prom plans were Lanny Yeske, vice-president; and Irene Montgomery, secretary treasurer.

The duties of the class officers included such activities as supervising the bonfire on Pageant Day, making prom plans, planning the Junior Class party and presiding over class meetings.

Sophomores selected to rule as class officers for the first semester were: Jim Schwuchow, president; Jim Desautels, vice-president; and Janita Strader, secretary. Under the supervision of this group, the annual class party and talent show were planned and successfully carried out. Advised by Mr. August Conklin, these officers were responsible for all Sophomore class activities and presided at class meetings. The election of the first semester class officers marked the beginning of democratic voting for members of the Sophomore class.

To continue the work of the first semester officers, the sophomores elected the following people to rule as second semester class leaders: Allan Nereim, president; John O'Keefe, vice-president; and Maureen O'Connor, secretary. This election broke previous records in that Mr. Lenihan claimed all these officers as members of his home-room. Both groups of officers completed a year of successful work to keep high the standards set by past sophomore leaders.

PAGEANT DAY

With the cries of a big speller still ringing throughout the auditorium, Central's 36th annual Pageant Day officially commenced with the traditional pep fest.

After the installation and initiation of four new Pep Club members, two sophomores and two juniors, the already enthused crowd surged out into the streets to form a giant snake dance. As the chain-like affair wound its way down Main Street, it left behind the echoes of the cheering crowd.

Led by the band and cheerleaders, the student body stopped at the post office only long enough to gather a reserve of pep and to display it by joining in songs and yells. After which, they returned to the school grounds to yell huskily as a flaming fire reflected a dark blue sky.

Then the great day arrived, that day of exciting, wonderful, happenings. It found students putting the finishing touches on their homeroom floats which conformed to the theme, "Central High On Parade".

And so came the long-awaited coronation ceremony which inaugurated the day's festivities. Students applauded vigorously as Patty Wipf and Leland Grohnke were named Queen and Marshal for 1954. The happy royalty, truly deserving the honor, were crowned by last year's Queen, Virginia Herrboldt, and the 1951 Marshal, Herb Cochrane.

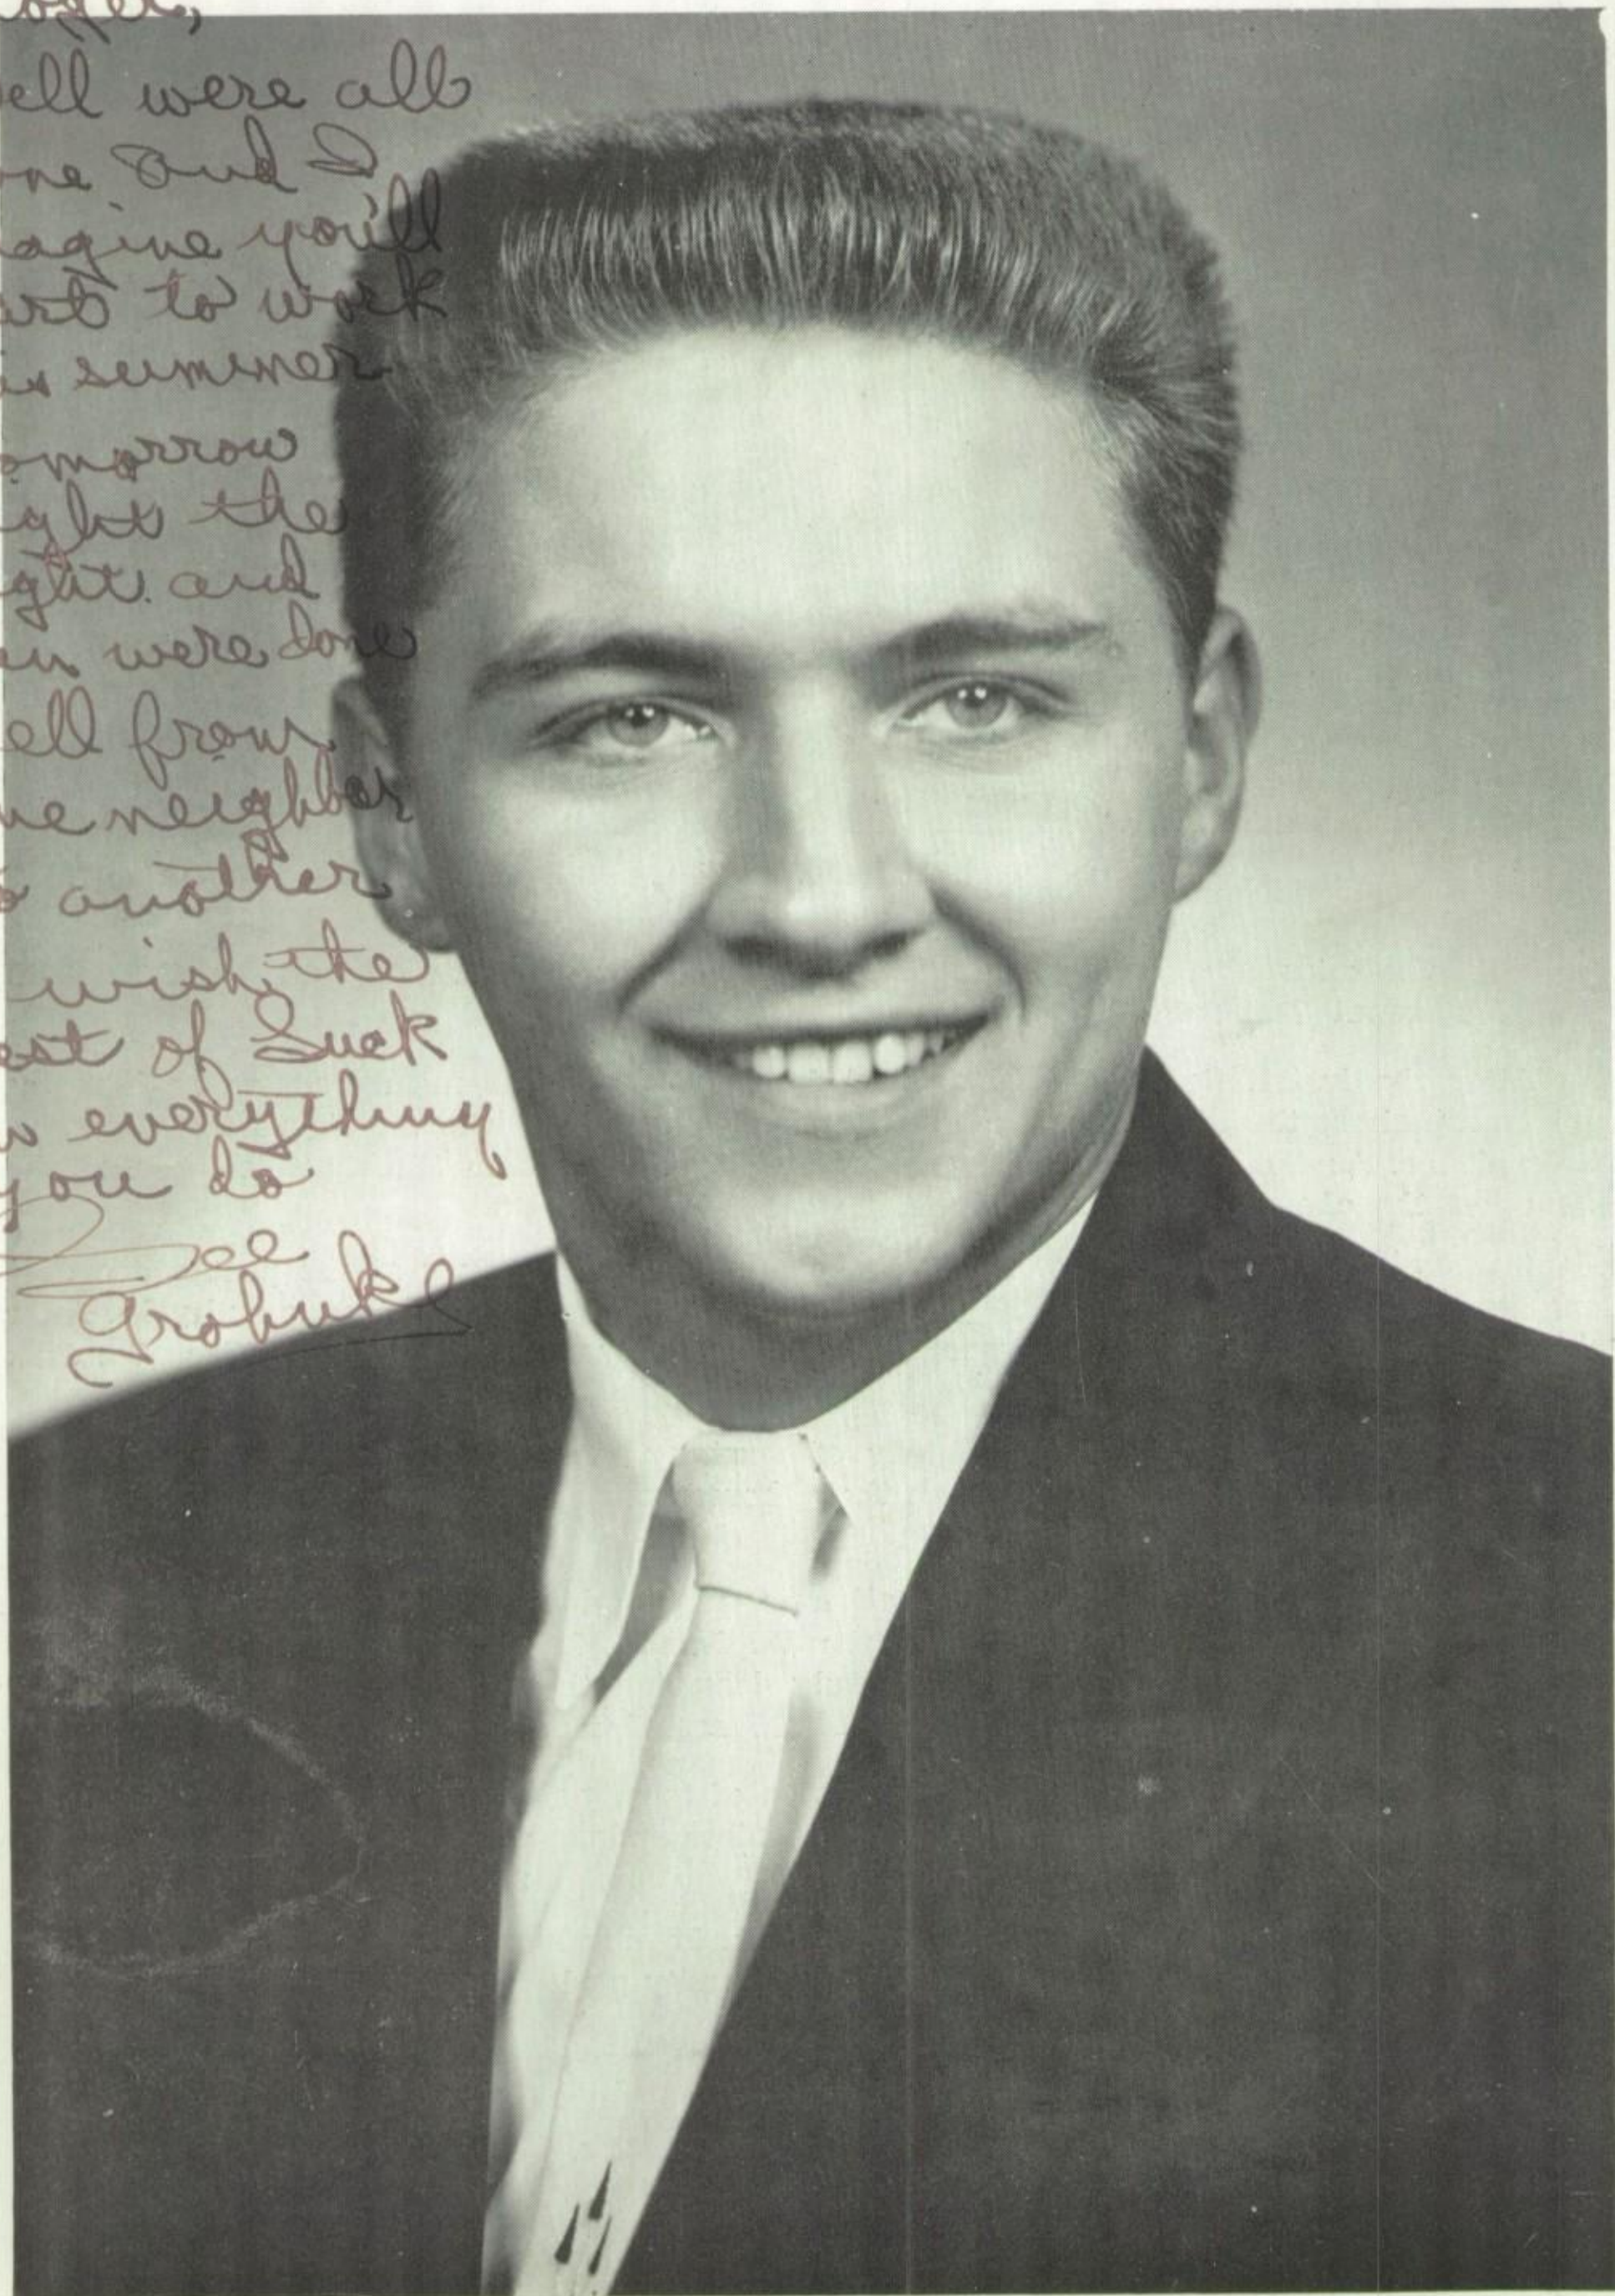

At one o'clock that afternoon, the procession of twenty-six floats moved down the spectator-lined streets to Simmons Field where the juniors and sophomores clashed in their afternoon contest.

And to add just the right flavoring to the already wonderful day, the powerful Eagles defeated the Brookings "Bobcats" 20 to 7 in the varsity grid classic that evening.

A dance in the arena following the game terminated the gala, fun-packed, thrill-packed, day. John Taylor and his orchestra provided the music as students and alumni attended.

So another Pageant Day ended. A day full of memories. Memories of the pep fest, the coronation, the parade, the game, and the dance. Memories that can never be forgotten. Memories that won't be forgotten as long as students continue to carry out this traditional twenty-four hours! ! !

Roger,
Well were all done. And I imagine you'll start to work
this summer.

then were done
well from

I wish the

Leaders Of Tomorrow

Sixteen members of the Junior class were selected to represent Central at Boys' and Girls' States to be held at the close of the school year.

To be eligible for selection to this mythical government, the student must be in the upper one third of the junior class. Qualifications of leadership, character, service, initiative, and citizenship are seriously considered in addition to the student's loyalty, courage, and co-operation.

Boys' and Girls' States are patterned after South Dakota government. Citizens of both states attend regular meetings and assemblies which feature such well-informed speakers as the governor, top city officials, and leaders of the organizations which sponsor the staters.

Northern State Teachers College is the home of Boys' Staters from the cities throughout South Dakota and the Dakota Wesleyan Campus in Mitchell is the site for Girls' Staters. Both groups are kept busy throughout the week studying the functions of our government; campaigning for the city, county, and state officers; and organizing a miniature city, county, and state of their own.

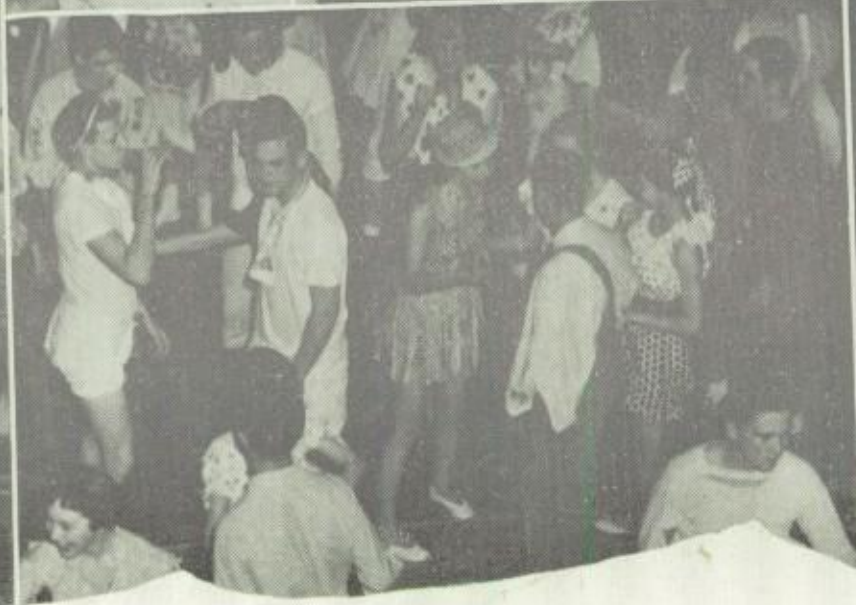

Other highlights include the talent assembly, the daily paper, a tour of the city, and the inauguration ceremonies in honor of the elected governor.

Toward the end of the sessions, two delegates are selected to attend Boys' and Girls' Nations in Washington, D. C.

Central's representatives to Boys' State include: Penn Williams, Jack Holstad, Dave Wolsky, Ed Blando, Ricky Roesch, Dennis Bale, Ed Olson, David Carlson, Bob Vikander, Pete Schmitt, Lanny Yeske, and Don Monroe. The Girls' Staters are Lydia Ackley, Ellen Hasse, Patsy Lovinger, and Virginia Werth.

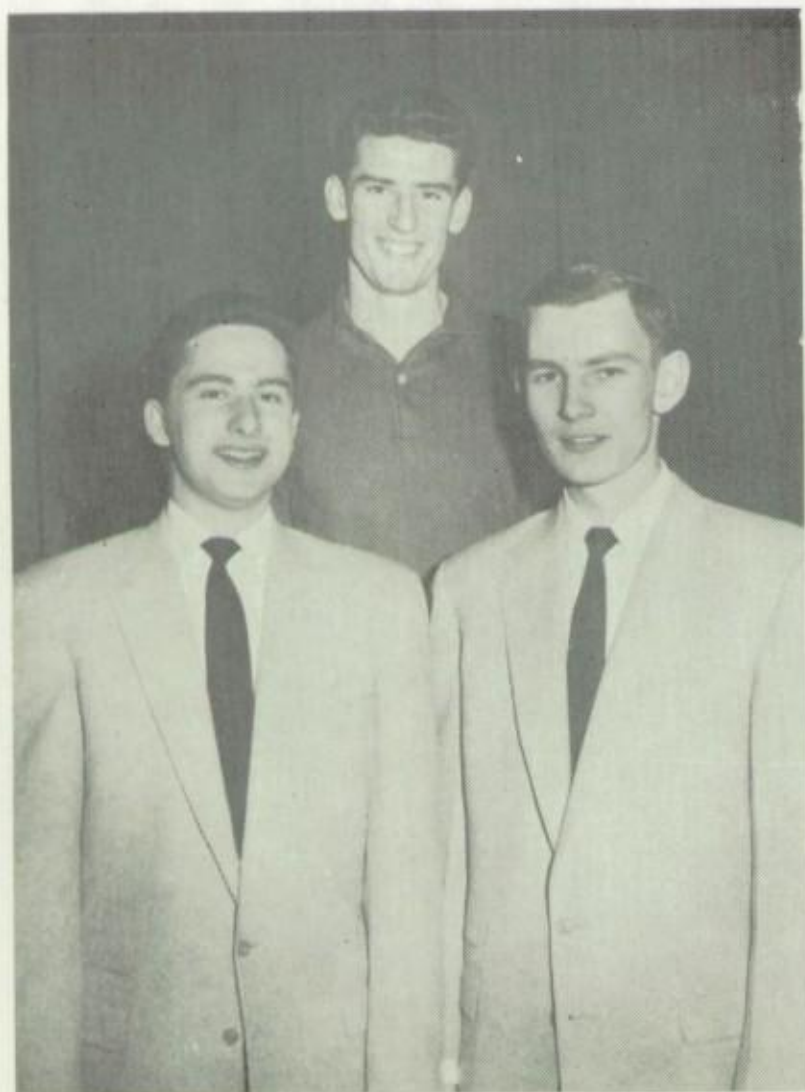

Sadie

Hawkins

In November, approximately 20 Centralites participated in the Fall Speech Contest. Chuck Levy took first place in the dramatic interpretation division while Creighton Holstad and Arthur Radin won the classical oration and humorous interpretation respectively. Winner in the poetry division was Ron Holgate. His success in the local contest made him eligible to enter the State contest in Pierre in December where he took a "superior" in poetry.

Speech Activities

Central's debaters, five in number, were outstanding students chosen from the advanced speech classes. The group attended an Invitational Debate Tournament at Northern State Teachers College. Their topic was "Resolved that the Federal Government Should Initiate a Policy of Free Trade Among the Friendly Nations of the World".

Twenty Centralites journeyed to Vermillion in January to attend the annual speech festival at the University. Divisions entered were radio announcing, discussion, public speaking, reading recital and after-dinner speaking. Mr Fisher and Mr. Nelson accompanied the students.

Each contestant in the division of Extemporaneous Speaking drew his topic from 25 selected topics of national importance. He then prepared an eight minute speech, and was allotted two minutes in which to answer questions. He was also allowed one minute for asking questions of other speakers. Barbara Zemlicka and Creighton Holstad won 'firsts' in this division while Chuck Levy's Original Oration took first. Chuck entered the State Contest in Huron where he placed third.

Central, a member of the South Dakota Speech Association, held its spring contest in March this year. The two divisions open were extemporaneous speaking and original oratory. All members of the advanced speech classes wrote original orations of no more than 1200 words on a topic of national importance. The best of these were entered in the local contest.

The Little

Minister

Central's first all-school play of the year, "The Little Minister", was presented in three dramatic acts under the direction of Mrs. Norma Chilton.

The parlor in the house of Gavin Dishart, the Little Minister, served as a setting for the play, situated in Thrums, Scotland.

Dishart acquires the Thrums parish only to find Lord Rintoul and the native workers involved in a labor dispute. Led by a charming gypsy, the men revolt against the low wages which they are being paid.

Gavin's desire for the gypsy is strong, and increases as Rob Dow, a high strung man of the world, leads the townspeople against their minister. Not wanting to cause any more trouble, Babbie, the gypsy, plans to leave, but Gavin's love and faith persuades her to stay. In the last scene, Babbie and Gavin overcome all the obstacles and their love triumphs. Costumes for the play were ordered from a Minneapolis costume house and were typical of the 1860's.

Student director was Kay Kraft.

Babbie, Grannie, and Gavin discuss the serious situation that confronts all of them.

An angry outburst by high-strung Rob Dow, is met with opposition by Mora McLaren.

"The Little Minister" is determined to save his beloved Babbie from the townsfolk.

Taming of The Shrew

Weeks of hard work by the above cast went into the successful production of William Shakespeare's, "Taming of the Shrew."

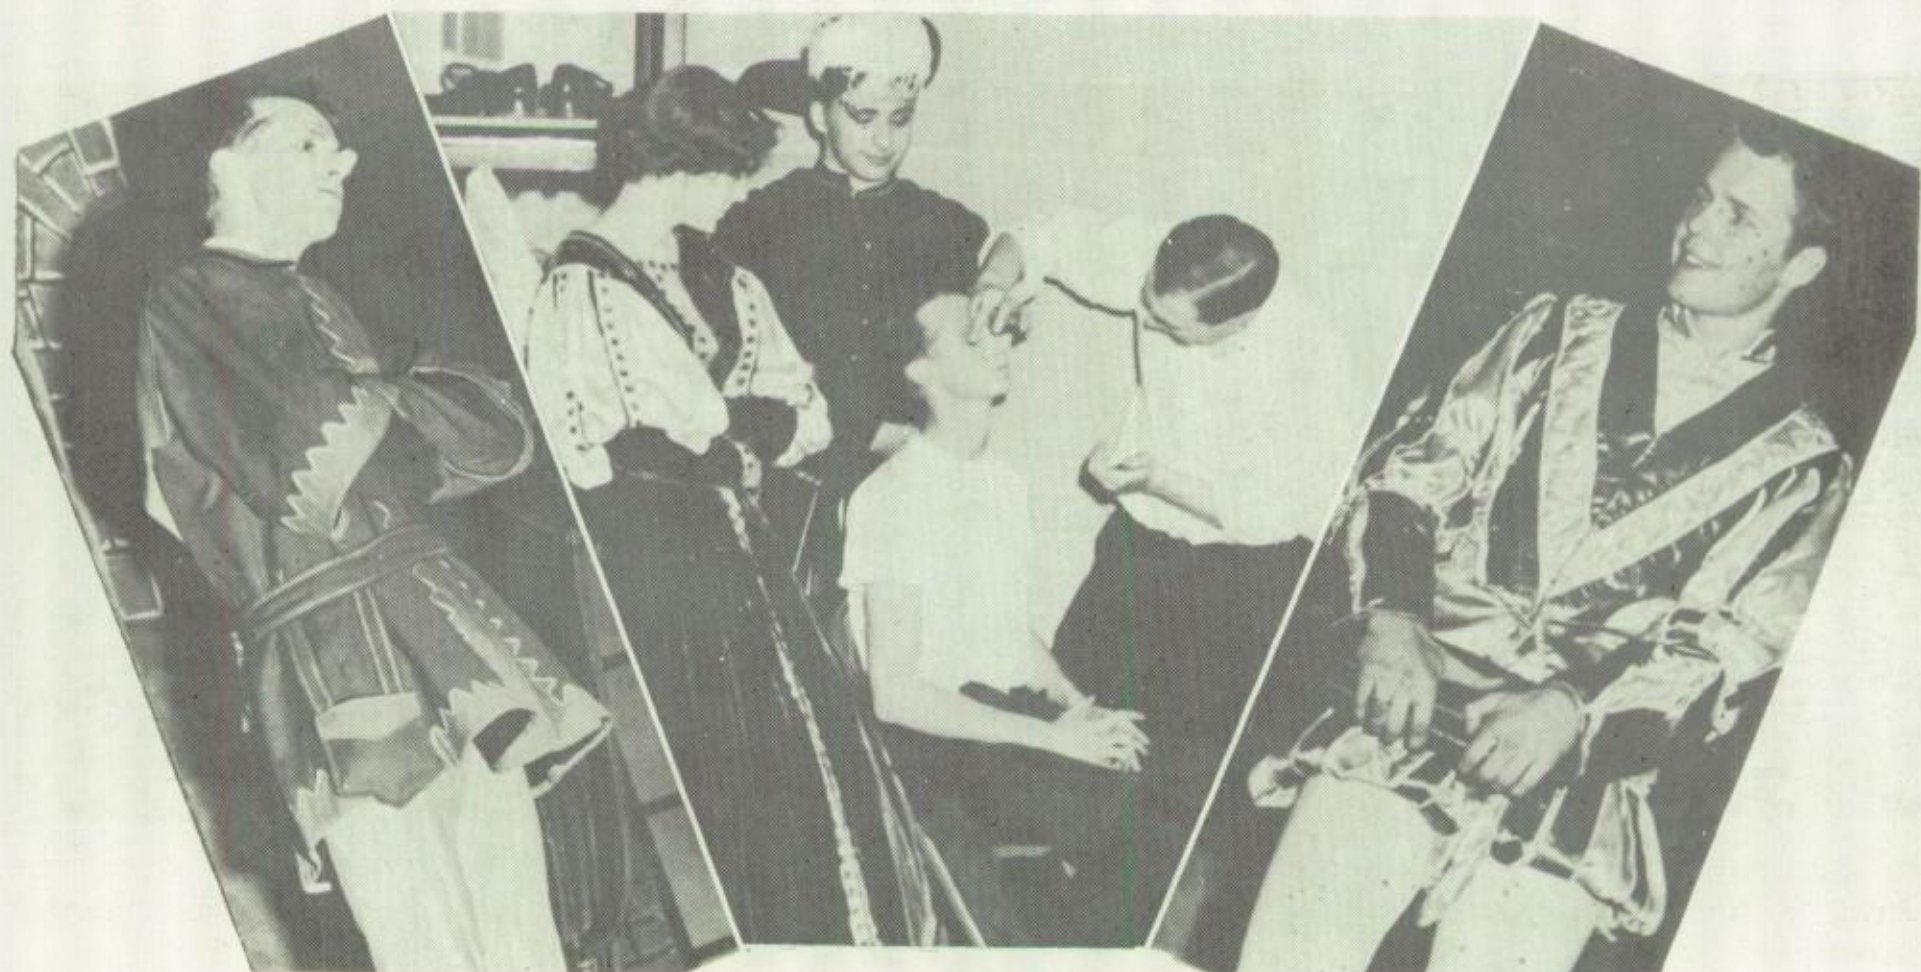

"The Taming of the Shrew", a four act farce, written by William Shakespeare, was presented as the annual winter all-school play.

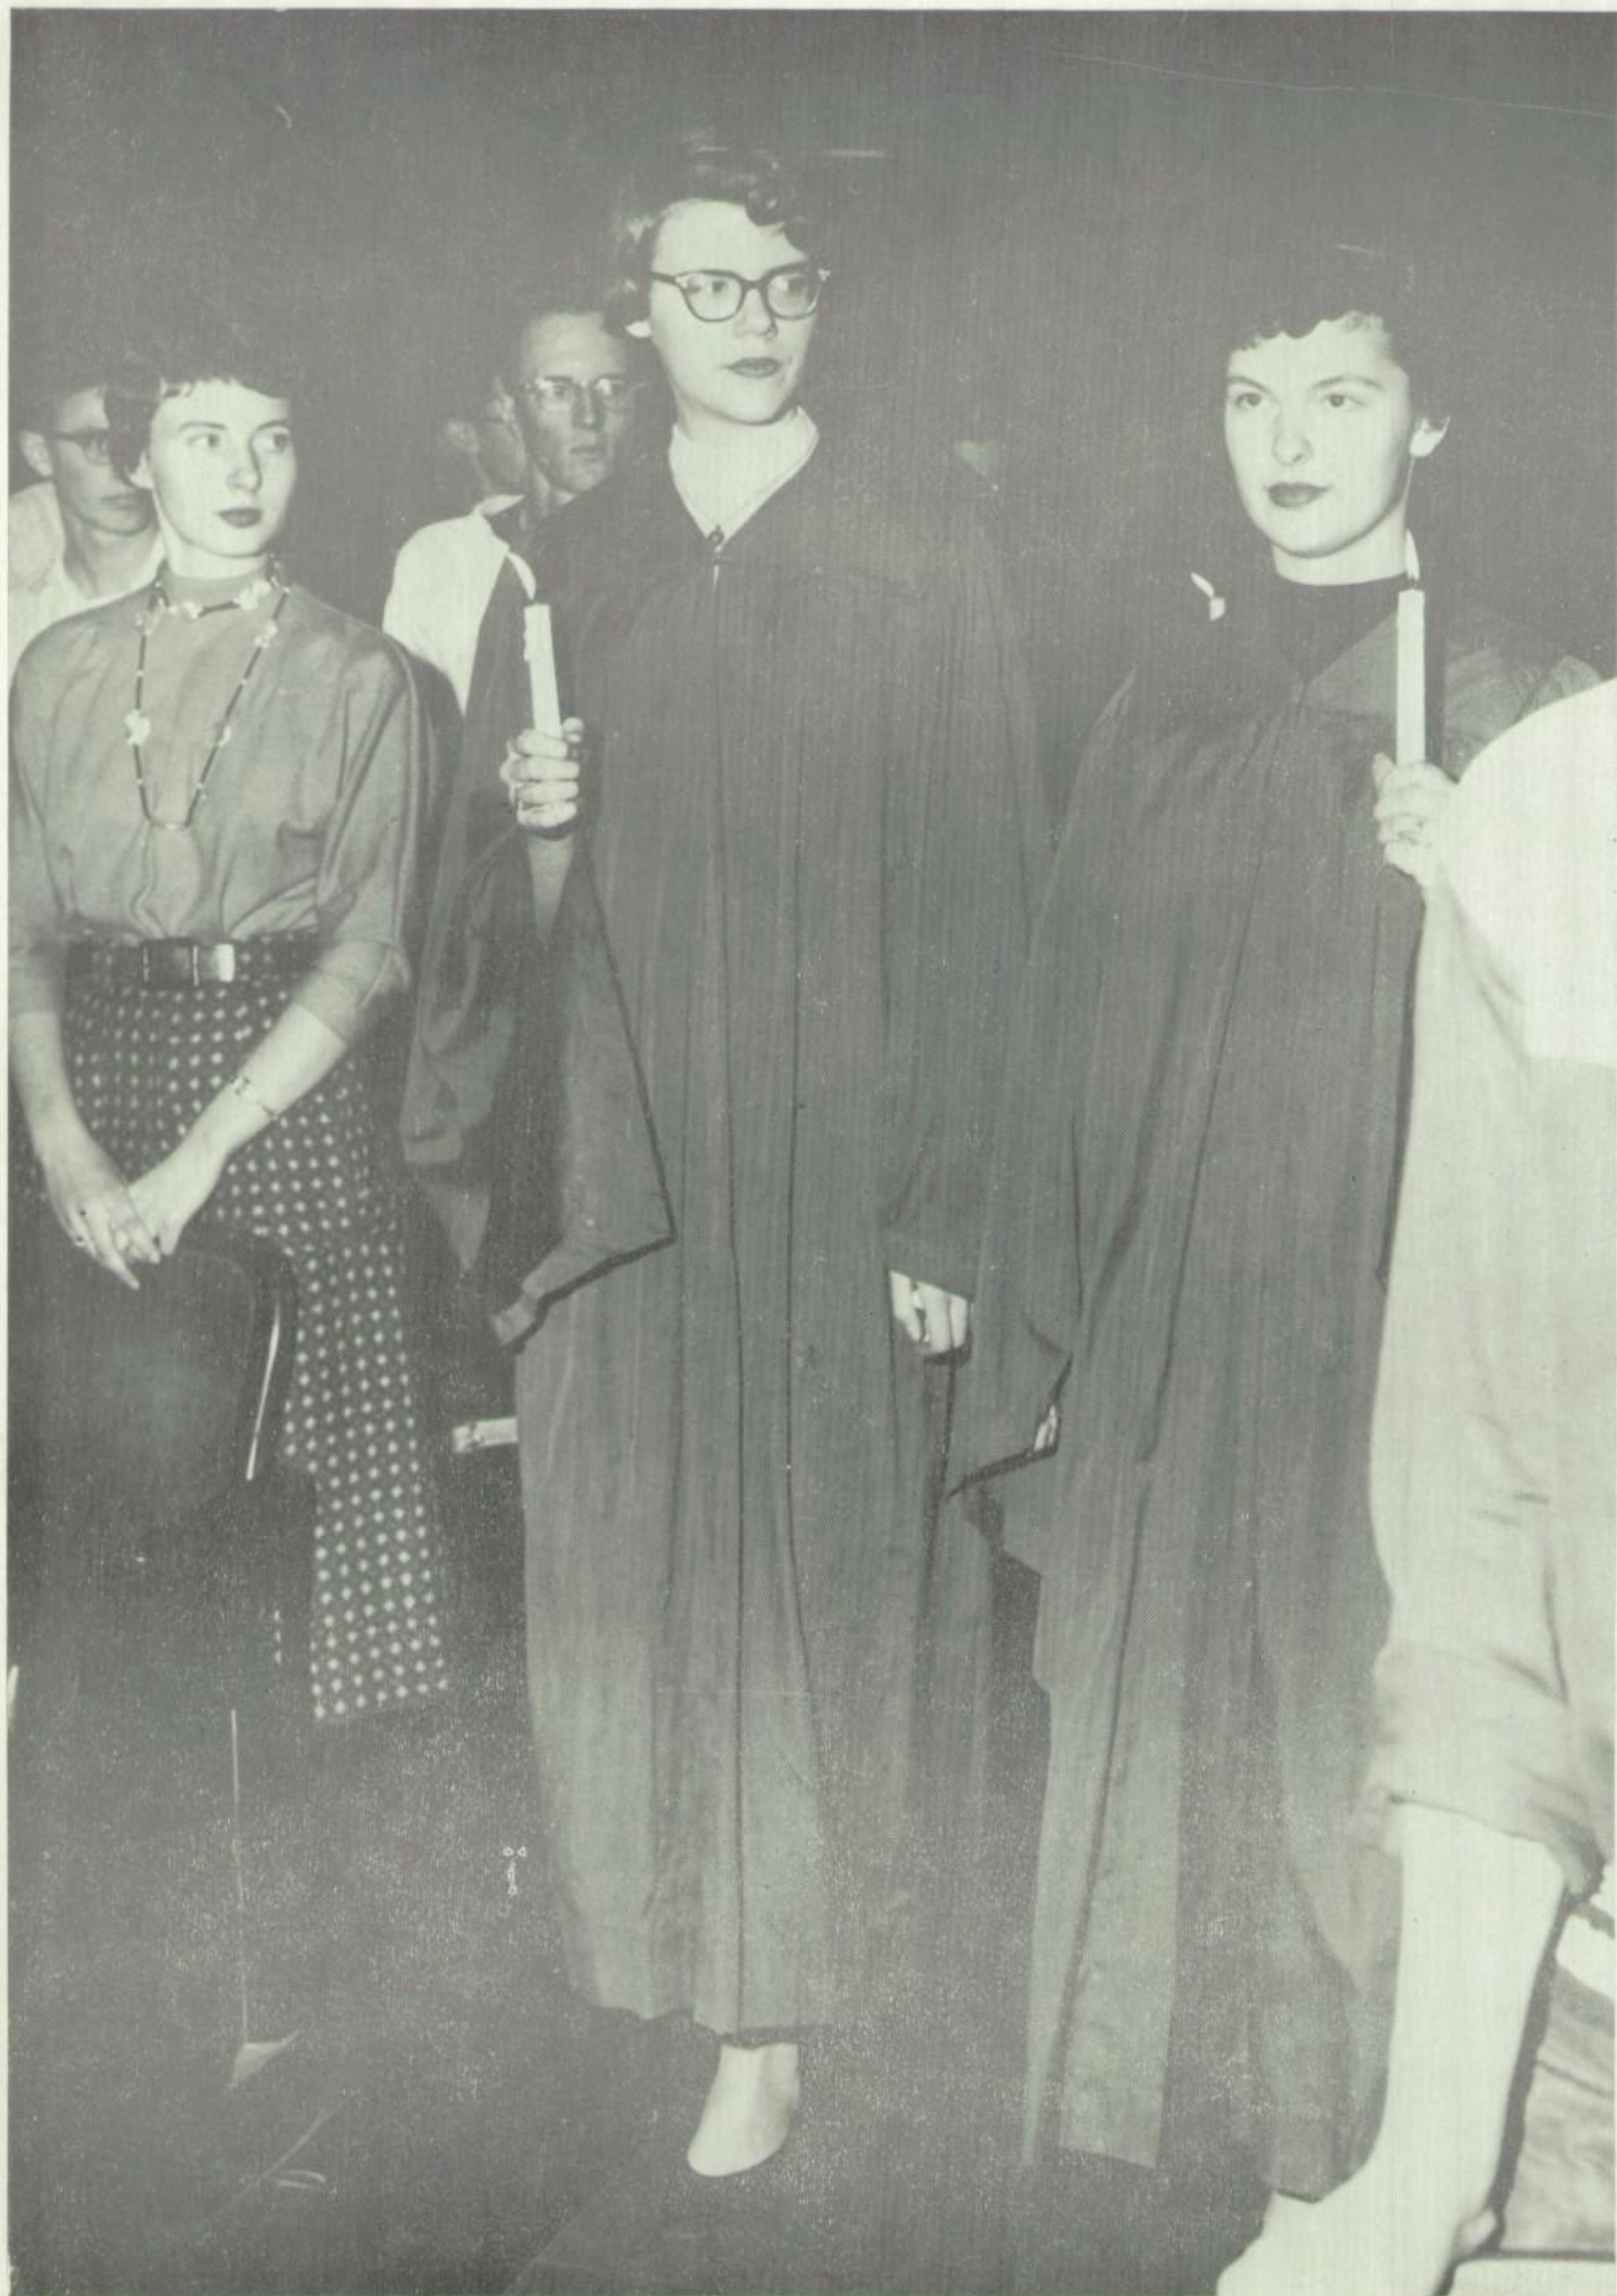

The plot unfolded as Baptista, a wealthy man of Padua, was confronted with marriage problems of his two beautiful daughters.

Fianca, the youngest, is a shy, even-tempered lass, while her elder sister Katharina is an ill-tempered, ill-mannered, high-spirited shrew who refuses to marry any of her suitors. In desperation her father promises a high dowry to the man who tries and succeeds in winning his daughter's hand.

Petrucio, a young man of Verona, delights in the idea of taming Katharina and tackles the job. Until the end, when their marriage is happily adjusted, it is a continuous battle of wit and temper.

The play was under the direction of Mr. Randall Fisher with Janet Froehlich and Judy Ronayne as student directors.

Congratulations on graduation. I don't know what we're going to do next year with all you seniors gone, but be sure to come back and visit us. I know I'll never forget some of the experiences we had in Band. Hasn't it been a wonderful year (except for all the troubles with the school Board etc.) Well, lots of luck in your future endeavors. "Dancing to the music of the Golden Blues" was enjoyed by the student body after football and basketball games. Popular music, with both fast and slow tempos was furnished by the group directed by Francis Dorre, assistant band director.

Uniform attire for the swingband were gray suits for the boys, black skirts for the girls with pink shirts and black bow ties worn by all.

Sessions were held on Monday evenings for all members to select and practice music for the school dances.

Music Memos

This year the chair system was used by Mr. Schimnowski. Pictured above are the first chair members of each section.

A daily routine for the A Cappella is the fifteen to twenty minutes of the hour designated for "tuning up."

The band, under the direction of Mr. Schwuchow, is divided into three sections. The brass section is pictured above.

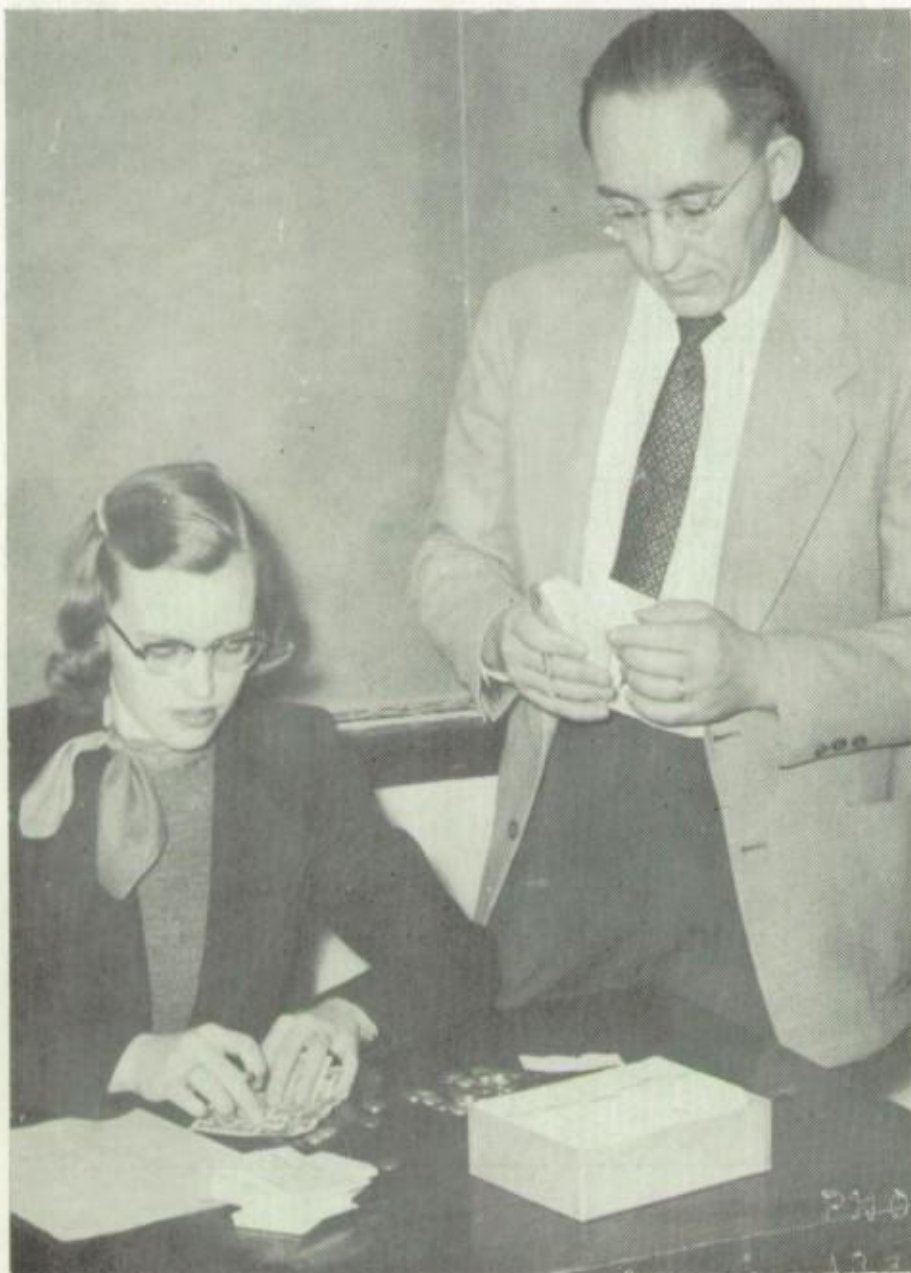

The chamber orchestra is a small group within the orchestra designed to play at functions for which the whole group can not attend.

The Student Council has been one of Central's most active organizations this year. Under the guidance of advisers Mrs. Ruth Olson and Mr. Fred Claudon, they have sponsored many activities, including Pageant Day, the Halloween Party, Eaglean Follies, and the Aberdeen Relays.

A drive for funds to support George, Central's adopted Greek War Orphan, was again sparked off by the council, and Centralites stopped daily to see how the big red thermometer on first floor was rising.

This year, for the first time, the staff members have shared responsibilities with two head monitors. Here, monitor co-chiefs, Monte Smith and Jerry Zimmerman, look over weekly criticisms with William Ochs, faculty adviser of the organization.

The 42 members of Central's law-enforcing body, the Monitor Board, consisted of juniors and seniors. Recommendations for positions on the staff were made by faculty members, and final selection was made by Mr. Ochs, and the monitor chiefs. Board members are chosen on the basis of dependability, character, and the ability to get along with fellow students.

In addition to the reports by assistants, individual criticisms were turned in each week by the faculty and monitor chiefs. Jerry Zimmerman was this year's recipient of the Monitor Award given at the Honor Awards Assembly to the most efficient monitor of the year.

Leading a yell

Assembly stunt

Two sophomores and two juniors composed the 'B' squad.

Pepsters

The 'A' squad was composed of five senior and two junior members and boasted a boy cheerleader.

The pep club, under the direction of Miss Amacher and Mr. Dorre, had a very successful year. They led the songs and yells at all games and staged an assembly preceeding each home game. As a money making project for the year, the clubs sold blue and gold pom poms to the student body. During tournament time the cheerleaders led Centralites in playing host to the visiting towns.

Blue and Gold Staff

Pictured on this page are members of the Blue and Gold staff. Advised by Mr. Noecker, this group practiced the general rules governing the management of a small newspaper. They were taught the principles of page make-up, headline writing, news and feature writing, copy and proof reading, and the many other tasks involved in publishing a paper. The staff, composed of all second year Journalism students, published a bi-weekly edition of the Blue and Gold.

Editors for the 1954-55 school year were: Barbara Guhin, editor-in-chief; Jean Engel, feature editor; Kay Clayton, news editor; and Paul Maloney, sports editor.

Glancing over some material are:-standing-Greg Nelson, Kay Kraft, Ken Clark and Ross Chiles; -sitting- Audrey Trelstad and typists: Shirley Dennert and Margaret Hutchison.

Numerous and varied tasks were involved in the publication of this literary booklet. Material was chosen from selections submitted by literature classes as well as Wordcraft members. Each composition was proofed, typed, and copy-read. Finally, all illustrations and selections were measured and placed in the dummy. In the spring an assembly was staged to reveal the theme and present Wordcrafts. An appropriate skit was written for this.

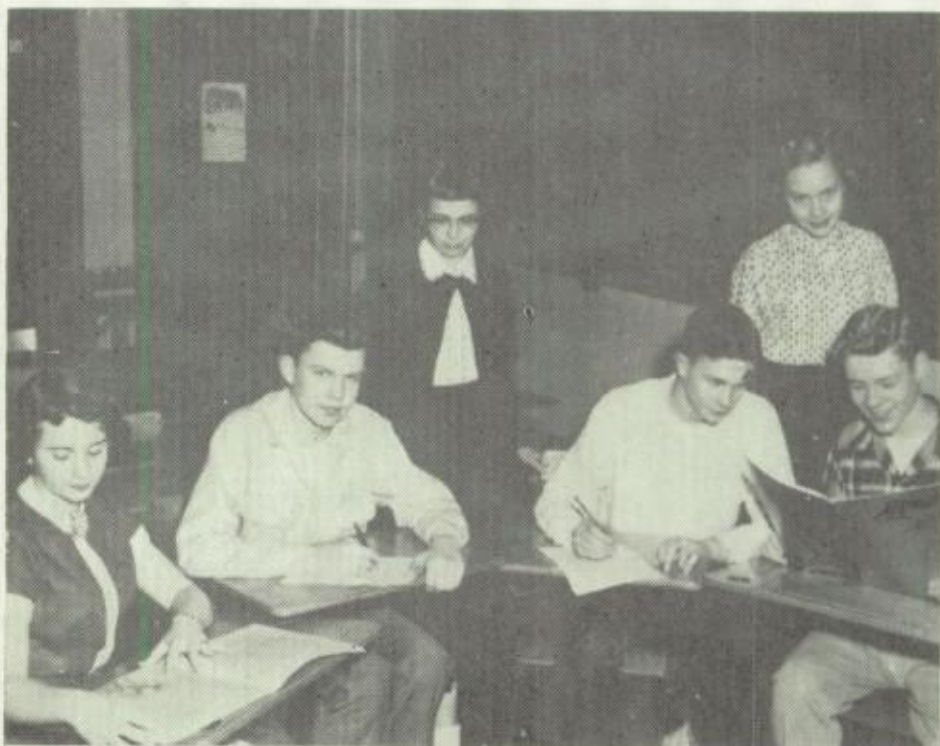

Editors for this year's Wordcraft were Krestie Lee and Monte Smith.

Wordcraft

Wordcrafters spent a busy year composing and editing the thirty-six page annual Wordcraft. Comprised of original stories, poems and essays, the literary publication was illustrated by students in Miss Lambert's art classes. For regular members, each sixth hour was devoted to work on the magazine. Guiding and helping as adviser for the group was Miss Grace Baker. The job of printing was accomplished with Mr. Buck supervising.

More regular Wordcrafters are: -standing- Jim Smith, Priscilla Eckrich, Ann Armantrout, Carole Dahl, art editor, and Jerry Zimmerman; -sitting- Pat Langeland, Barbara Guhin, and Zella Milstead.

Discussing some compositions are the fringe members who met Monday after school. They are Lynne Ludeman, Jack Holstad, Janice Wilcox, Jim Marlow, Patsy Lovinger, and Ricky Roesch.

Consulting the activities editor on make-up problems are the junior members of the activity staff.

The senior members of the activities staff played an important part in compiling the activities section.

Yours Truly

A 21-member yearbook staff consisting of two sophomores, five juniors, and fourteen seniors, undertook the numerous responsibilities of editing the 1954-55 Arrow. On Tuesday evenings the staff met to make up pages, write copy and do other jobs necessary in completing the yearbook.

Heading the staff were: Sonia Knudson as editor-in-chief and Jim Lust as business manager. Darrell Danielson and Darwin Dunker were photographers. Senior co-editors were Barbara Guhin and Krestie Lee. Karen Nordus and Irene Montgomery served as sophomore and junior editors respectively. Shirley Henning headed the activities staff and John Forseth served as Sports editor. Lynne Ludeman acted as art editor. Advisor for the Arrow was Mr. Noecker.

Each of these editors had charge of a special phase in editing the Arrow.

A sports staff, consisting of five boys, was in charge of the baseball, football, and track sections.

With the help and leadership of these seniors, the yearbook was completed.

Sophomore Creative Writing

A new club was organized at Central this year under the name of the Sophomore Creative Club. Advised by Mrs. Ruth Olson and guided by Sharon Irish, President, this group completed a successful year. Among the several projects completed was a play written for the Sophomore Speech Club. This active group also penned Christmas themes, poetry, and essays defending a topic they chose. 'I Defend The Youth' was an example of the topics chosen.

Quill and Scroll

Thirteen students formed the nucleus of the Quill and Scroll International Honor Society designed for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism and allied fields. Members included: Zella Milstead, Kay Clayton, Barbara Zemlicka, Jean Engel, Sonia Knudson, Barbara Guhin, Krestie Lee, Priscilla Eckrich, Barbara Nelson, Jim Marlow, Kay Kraft, Monte Smith, and Shirley Henning.

Future Ciceros

Luncheon meetings of the Senior Speech Club were held twice a month. The club, comprised of senior students, had as its main purpose the promotion of speech activities at Central. The club participated in the Eagean Follies, published student directories sold to the student body, and sponsored a style show assembly. Mr. Randy Fisher was the club adviser.

Talented Talkers

Junior Speech Club, comprised of junior students interested in speech activities, met bi-monthly for luncheon meetings. Activities during the meetings included: panel discussions, impromptu speeches, and guest speakers. During the year the club sponsored the annual Sock-Hop, helped to organize a Sophomore Speech Club, and planned a banquet at the end of the school year to which the Senior and Sophomore Clubs were invited. Club adviser was Mr. Leo Nelson.

H A N D S O F M E R C Y

Central's Junior Red Cross Council, advised by Mr. August Conklin, completed a year of varied activities. Under the leadership of President Barbara Guhin, this group sponsored the membership drive, the annual clothing drive, a record drive, and a Christmas gift drive. They also made tray favors for the pediatrics ward at St. Luke's hospital. Two delegates, Ellen Hasse and Penn Williams, were selected to attend the National Convention in Illinois this summer. Joan Hardin was named outstanding Red Cross representative and was presented a service medal on Award's Day.

The main purpose of the Lauretta Mundt Chapter of Future Teachers of America was to acquaint students with the teaching profession and its opportunities. Attending the S.D.E.A. convention at Huron, giving a Christmas party for children, and practice teaching in the Aberdeen schools all helped the club achieve its purpose. Mr. Robert Orr advised the bi-monthly luncheon meetings.

Snap Shooters

Photography Club, consisting of 28 members, met every Wednesday night. Main activities of the club included acquainting the members with both the contact and enlarging methods of developing negatives and prints and discussing photographic equipment. In order to receive credit for the year's club activities, each member had to enter a national photography contest and submit an 8 by 10 print to Mr. Buck, club adviser. Winners of the club's annual photography contest were: first place-Tom Skinner, second place-Danny Busch, and third place-Marilyn Berg.

Sophomore Speakers

With the help of the Junior Speech Club and its president, a Sophomore Speech Club was organized to teach students parliamentary procedure and its importance. A few impromptu speeches were given by members late in the year. The following officers were chosen: Ross Chiles, president; Janita Strader, vice-president; Maureen O'Connor, secretary; Melvin Klein, parliamentarian; John O'Keefe, corresponding secretary; and Karen Johanson, lay representative.

Experimenting Einsteins

The Science Club completed a year of many projects. Advised by Mr. Loverude, the group made and tested gunpowder. They also tested textiles and blew glass. Other activities included individual Chemistry projects and work on the Westinghouse Science Talent Research. Science Club officers were: President, Reo Kreuger; and Secretary-Treasurer, Arthur Radin.

Bug Botherers

The Biology Club was composed of Centralites interested in experimenting and studying plant and animal life. Each member worked on projects of his own choice and as a group the club experimented with frogs, hamsters, plants and seeds. They also had bird projects. The following were chosen to head the club for the year: President, Nancy Tiase; Vice President, Jim Schwuchow; Secretary, Bob Voas; Treasurer, Marilyn Spencer. The adviser was Miss Buss.

T O N G U E T W I S T E R S

Language Club, under the supervision of Mr. Harry Jones, was made up of German and Spanish students who met every other Thursday.

During the year they carried out such activities as a Mexican booth at the Festival of Nations, a caroling party at Christmas time, a taffy pull, and two radio broadcasts consisting of a Columbus Day program and language program.

Officers for the first semester were Jane Sheldon, president; Carol Goetz, vice-president; and Ann Armantrout, secretary-treasurer.

Second semester officers were Florence Schock, president; Kathleen Chittick, vice-president.

"Y" Council

Youth Center activities were planned by a council of twelve members, four representatives from each class. On the calendar of events this year were a number of date and informal dances: Sadie Hawkins, Sweetheart Formal, hard times dance and many 'juke-box dances'. Raising funds for a three speed phonograph was the one major project for the year.

Serving on the council were: Camille Donahue, Patty Wipf, Jim Lust, Paul Maloney-seniors; Susan Wilson, Elizabeth Mark, Don Monroe, Pete Schmitt-juniors; and Maureen O'Connor, Janita Strader, Jerry Lust, Mel Klein-sophmores.

Pawn Pushers

Under the direction of Mr. Harry Jones, the Chess Club was again organized for any student interested in learning and playing the internationally known game. To supplement regular meetings, several meets were arranged with the Hosmer Chess Club. President of the group was Jerry Zimmerman.

Central's "Hams"

Members of Central High's Radio Club had an active year under the supervision of adviser, Mr. Merton Hasse. The licensed operators each had their own code number, and enjoyed talking to other amateurs across the country.

Makers of Homes

The art of cooking is one of the more important phases of homemaking.

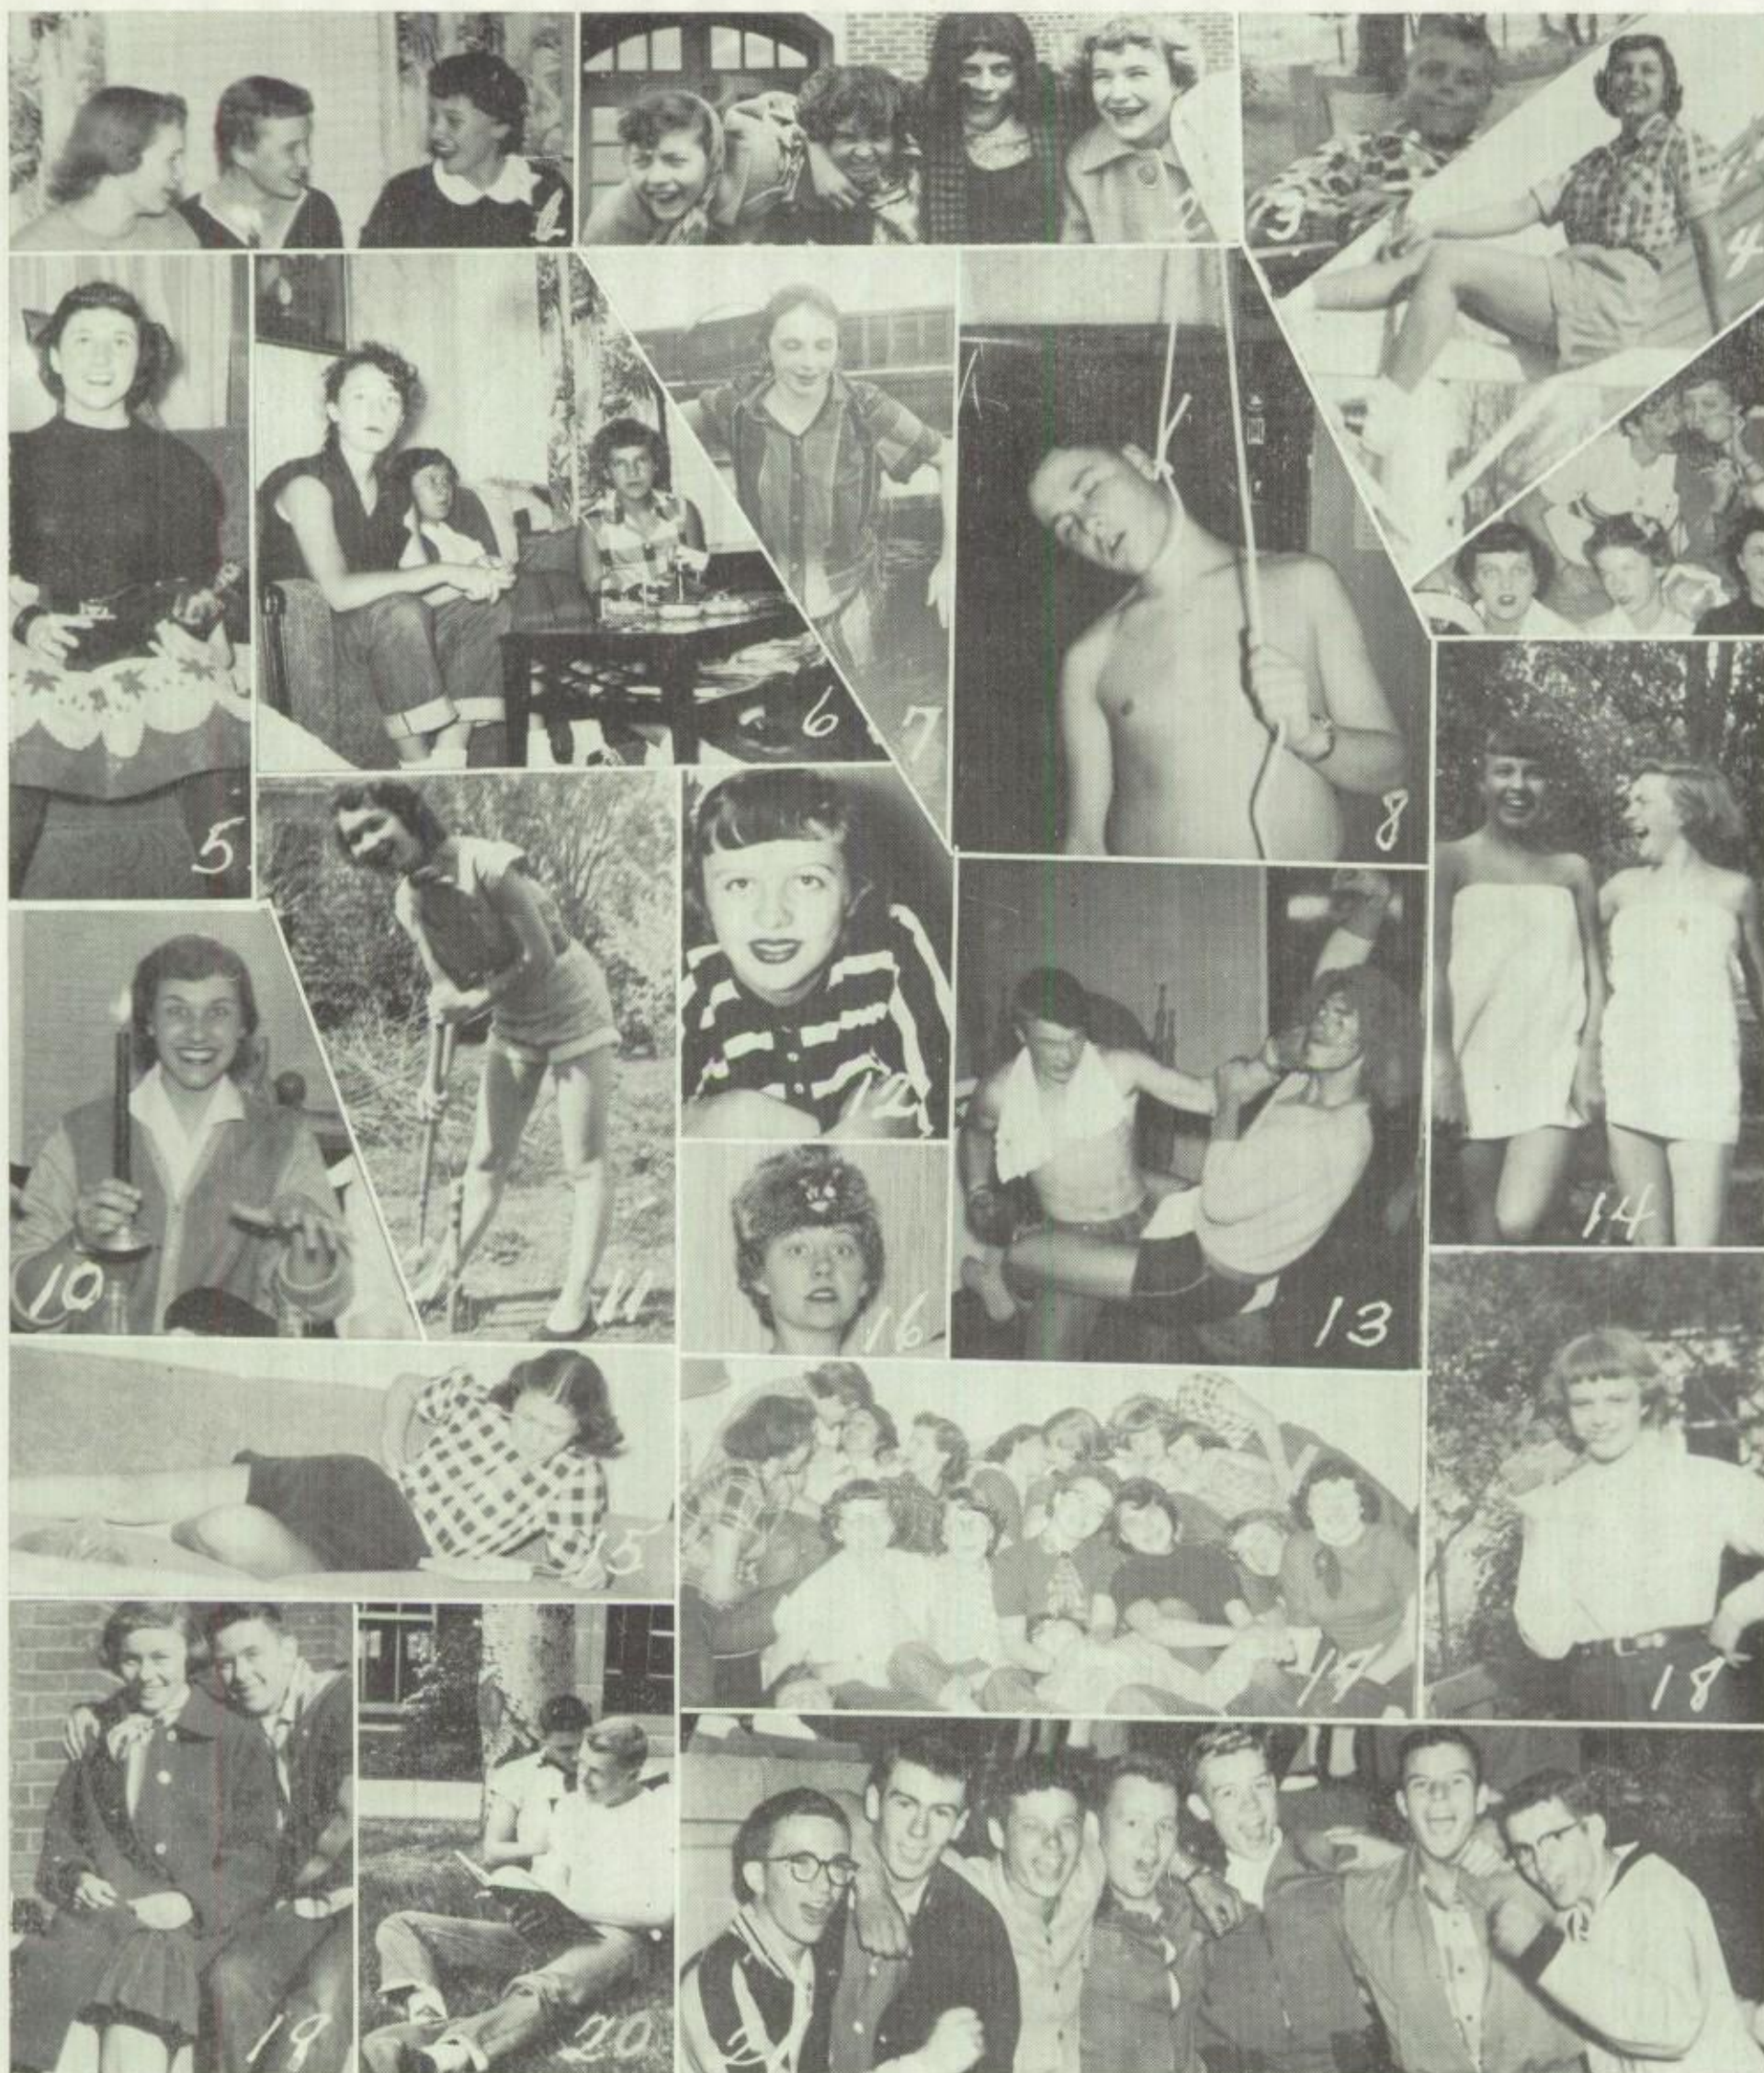

Homemakers enjoy supper previous to attending an Eagle basketball game.

The Future Homemakers of America Club is a national organization of which Central is an affiliated branch. Composed of forty members, this group was granted a charter in recognition for active membership. The club strives to further interest in home economics, to promote international good will, and to work for good home and family life for all. Among the many projects successfully completed were: a supper for invited guests; a progressive game party; a Civil Defense program; and panel discussions centering on teen-age problems. One of the most important of all projects was the selling of stationery to raise money for the crippled children's home in Sioux Falls.

Sewing lessons serve as a worthwhile project in the Homemakers's club.

Eagles Fighting Eleven

The 1954 edition of the Golden Eagles completed a successful season with a tie for second place in the E. S. D. although again plagued by the injury jinx. By the time the last game of the season rolled around, Ron Holgate, who was elected the captain of the squad, was the only member of the starting backfield to survive this jinx, and he was injured in the last game. The Golden Eagles also lost two other backfield men and Gary Hardin, an outstanding end.

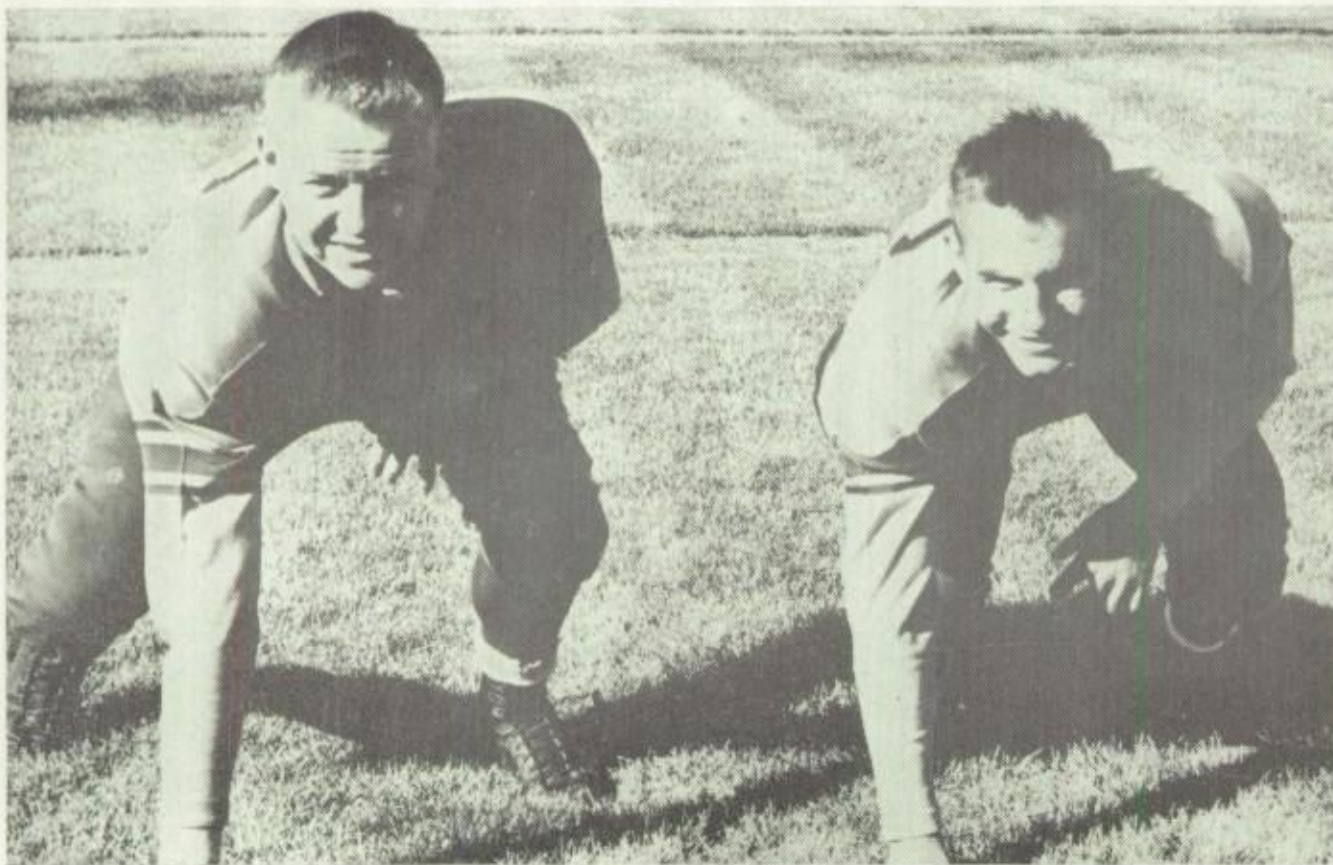

The Eagles, under the guidance of Emmett Lenihan and Mylo Jackson, produced the ESD's 2nd highest scorer in hard driving Bob Vikander. During the 1954 season the Eagles compiled a 5 win and 4 loss record.

EAGLES CRUSH SIOUX CITY

The Eagles opened the season, pleasing a large home crowd by blanking a big Sioux City Central team 26-0. The Eagles with a well-rounded attack, never found their goal line in danger as the defensive minded Hub eleven confined the little Maroon's attack to between the twenty yard lines.

EAGLES ROLL OVER HURON

The Golden Eagles continued in their winning ways with an impressive win over the Tigers, 40-13. Jim Lust and Bob Vikander each contributed two touchdowns to the Eagles cause.

ABERDEEN DROPS BOBCATS PAGEANT DAY

Led by Jim Lust's passing, the Eagles made it three in a row to put a cap on Pageant Day. Vikander again scored two touchdowns against Brookings, one on a Lust aerial and the other on a 21 yard sprint in the 20-7 win.

YANKTON STOPS EAGLES

The Yankton Bucks topped the Golden Eagles by a score of 21-7 to take over first spot in the ESD. The Eagles were smothered by a hard charging Yankton line and were held back by fumbles and penalties. Aberdeen's only touchdown came when they punched over from the one yard line in the second quarter.

BREAK DEFEATS FLOCK

Rapid City dropped the Eagles 19-14 in a well played game. On a weird play in the fourth quarter, Holgate completely faked the opposition and the referee, but in the meantime the ball had been blown dead, ruling out the touchdown, as he was galloping into the end-zone. Holmes all-round play and Holgate's signal calling stood out for the Eagles.

ABERDEEN SMOTHERS KERNELS

EAGLES DUMPED BY WARRIORS

The Sioux Falls Warriors, coming back after having their thirty-seven game winning streak broken, bested a determined Eagle squad 40-19. Vikander, who broke his wrist in this contest, scored all three Eagle touchdowns.

ABERDEEN LOSES FINALE

Madison dropped the Eagles into a three way tie for second place by the virtue of a 21-12 victory over Aberdeen. Don Schaib'e and Bob Holmes scored the touchdowns for the crippled Aberdeen squad.

The Aberdeen Eagles compiled a record of ten wins and four losses for the 1954-55 basketball season. Their E. S. D. record showed great improvement over the previous season's squad, and tournament play found the Eagles capturing runner-up honors in the State 'A' tournament. Coach Mylo Jackson's crew wound up in a tie with Madison for second place in the Eastern Conference standings, as Sioux Fall's Washington High Warriors chopped the top position in both basketball campaigns.

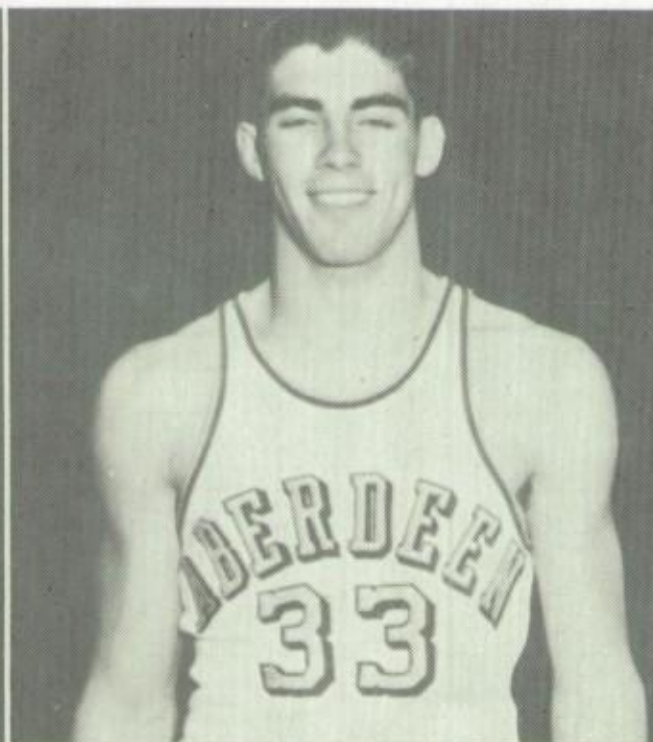

The Eagles were, for the second straight year, led by Ron Holgate in the scoring department, with Don Peterson finishing second. Bob Vikander and John Forseth were defensive standouts throughout the season, and many of the Eagle's offensive attacks were set up by Leland Grohnke's clever passing assists. Before the championship tussle in the State 'A' tourney, the Eagle squad elected Ron Holgate and Don Peterson as co-captains and both players represented the Hub City on the All-State Tournament team.

EAGLES TROUNCE BUCKS

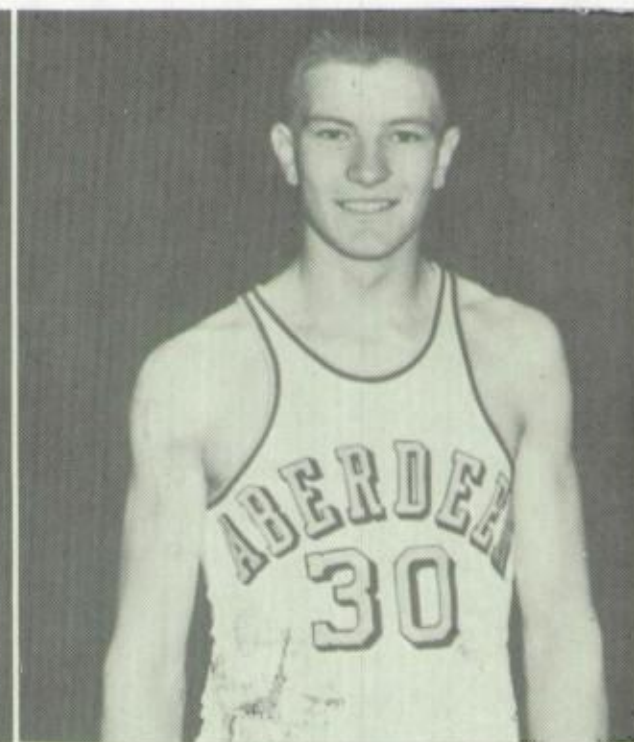

With four seniors in the starting lineup, the Eagles took the floor determined to make fans forget the failures of the previous season. Both teams were ragged the first half, but the fast breaking Eagles started hitting late in the second quarter, and after that were never headed. After a 21-16 edge at the midway mark, the Bucks faded to a 40-25 deficit after these periods. Yankton then staged a comeback that cut the Eagles advantage 48-38. Wolsky set the scoring pace for Aberdeen with 13 points.

EAGLES TRIM TIGERS

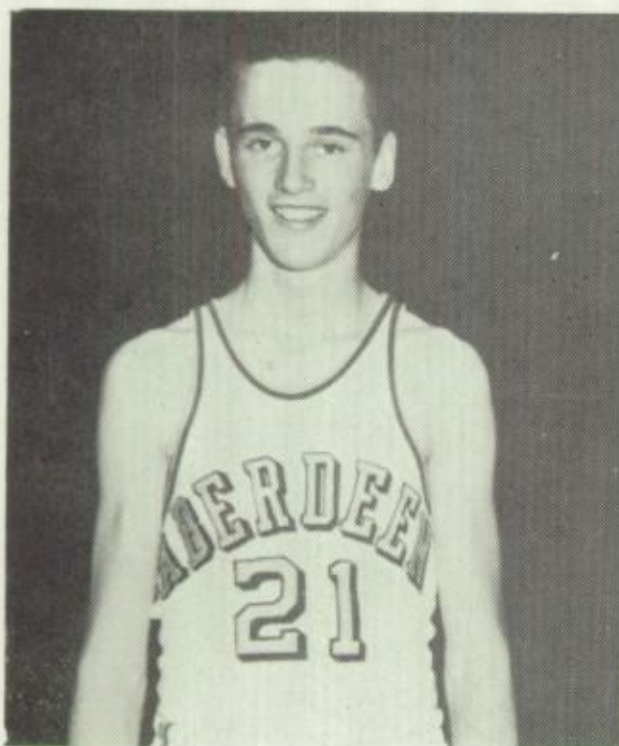

The new large Huron Arena saw the host Tigers fall before a grim Eagle crew 38-34. The front-running Eagles left the Tigers trailing 24-17 at halftime. However, Huron kept close on their heels and in the last four minutes of the final canto with the Eagles holding a slim 36-34 lead, Grohnke and Peterson fouled out. Last minute insurance by Forseth, who netted two gift tosses, crushed the opponents hopes. Holgate led the victors with 10 points.

EAGLES SUBDUE KERNELS

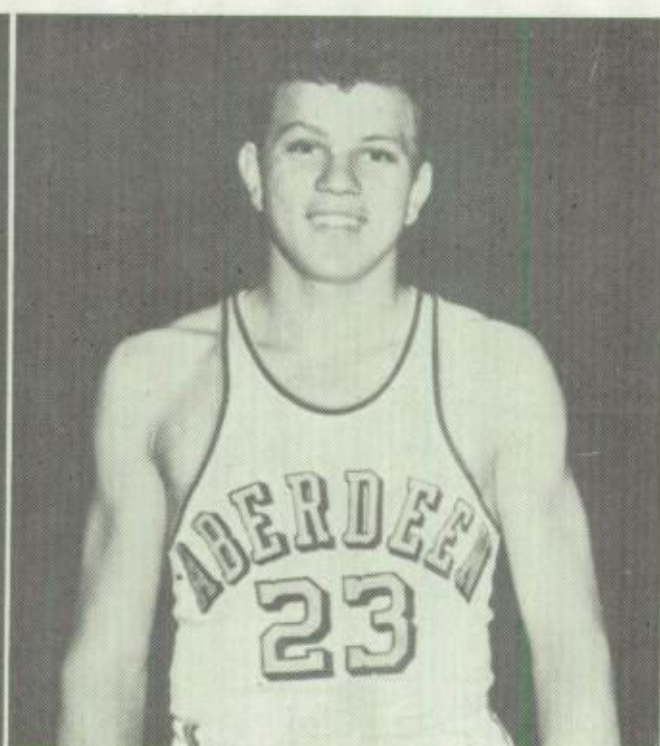

In the first home tussle for the Eagles, they played basket for basket to dump the Mitchell Kernels 52-47. Aberdeen jumped to a 31-23 lead at intermission, but was 'cold' throughout the third chapter and fell behind 42-41. With but two minutes to go it was still anyone's ball game as Aberdeen led by a 47-45 margin. Fouls then spelled disaster for the Kernels as Holgate, Forseth and Peterson hit the hoop for the clinching markers. Holgate netted 20 points for Central.

BULLDOGS CLOBBER EAGLES

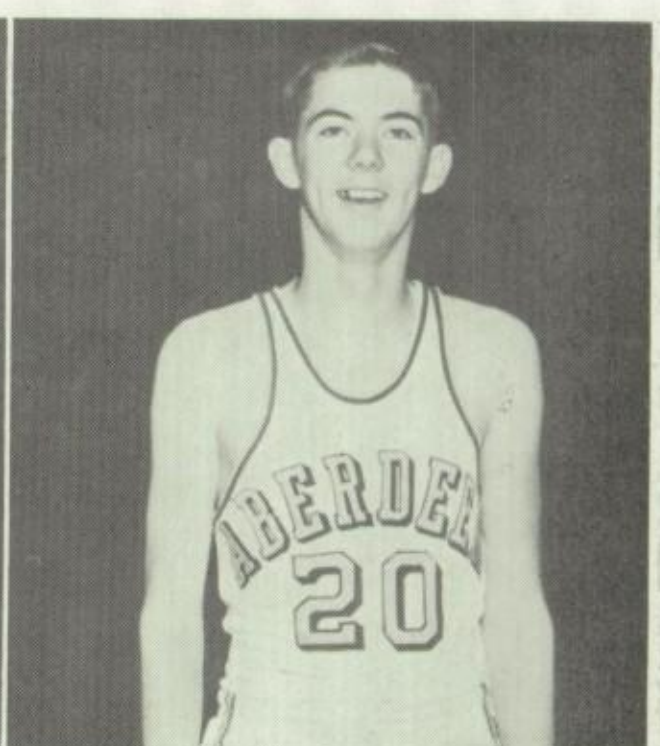

Just before the holiday vacation the Golden Eagles received their worst drubbing of the season for a smooth working Madison crew. The 68-37 score was built up through a first half scoring jaunt which, coupled with a tight zone defense, gave the Bulldogs a 35-25 lead when the halfway mark was reached. Aberdeen's only good quarter was the second when a fast break netted them 20 points. Late in the third chapter, which ended with a 54-30 Bulldog margin, reserves of both squads entered for the remaining minutes. Holgate sunk 9 points to pace the losers.

EAGLES WALLOP WARRIORS

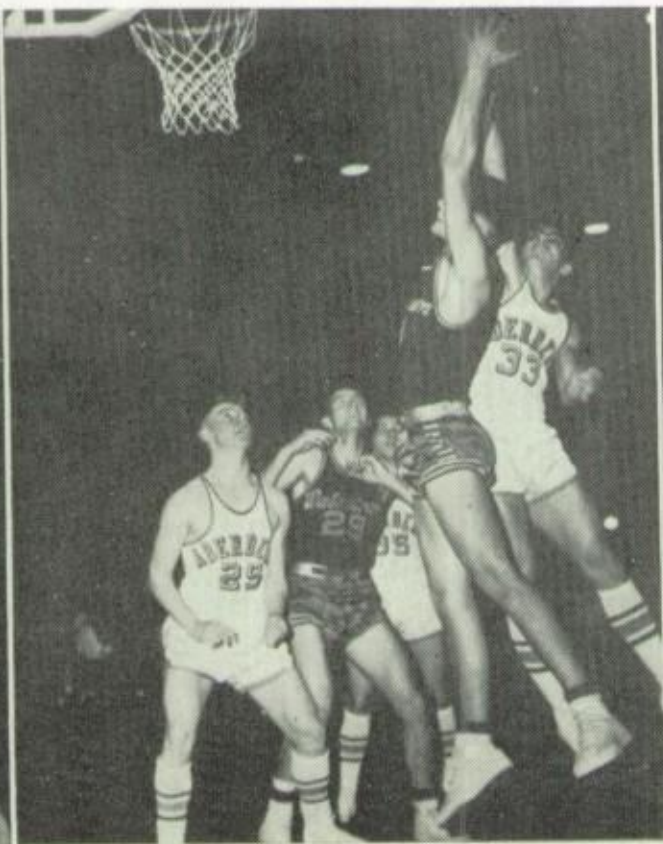

Central's Eagles returned to their winning ways with a 72-45 upset over the Sioux Falls' Washington High Warriors. The Eagles scored the first seven points and led 23-12 at the first quarter stop. In the second quarter Coach Jackson ordered his club to hold the ball until the Warriors came after it. They didn't so Vikander stood with the ball under his arm for 210 seconds before the half. Central's scoring honors went to Holgate with 19 points.

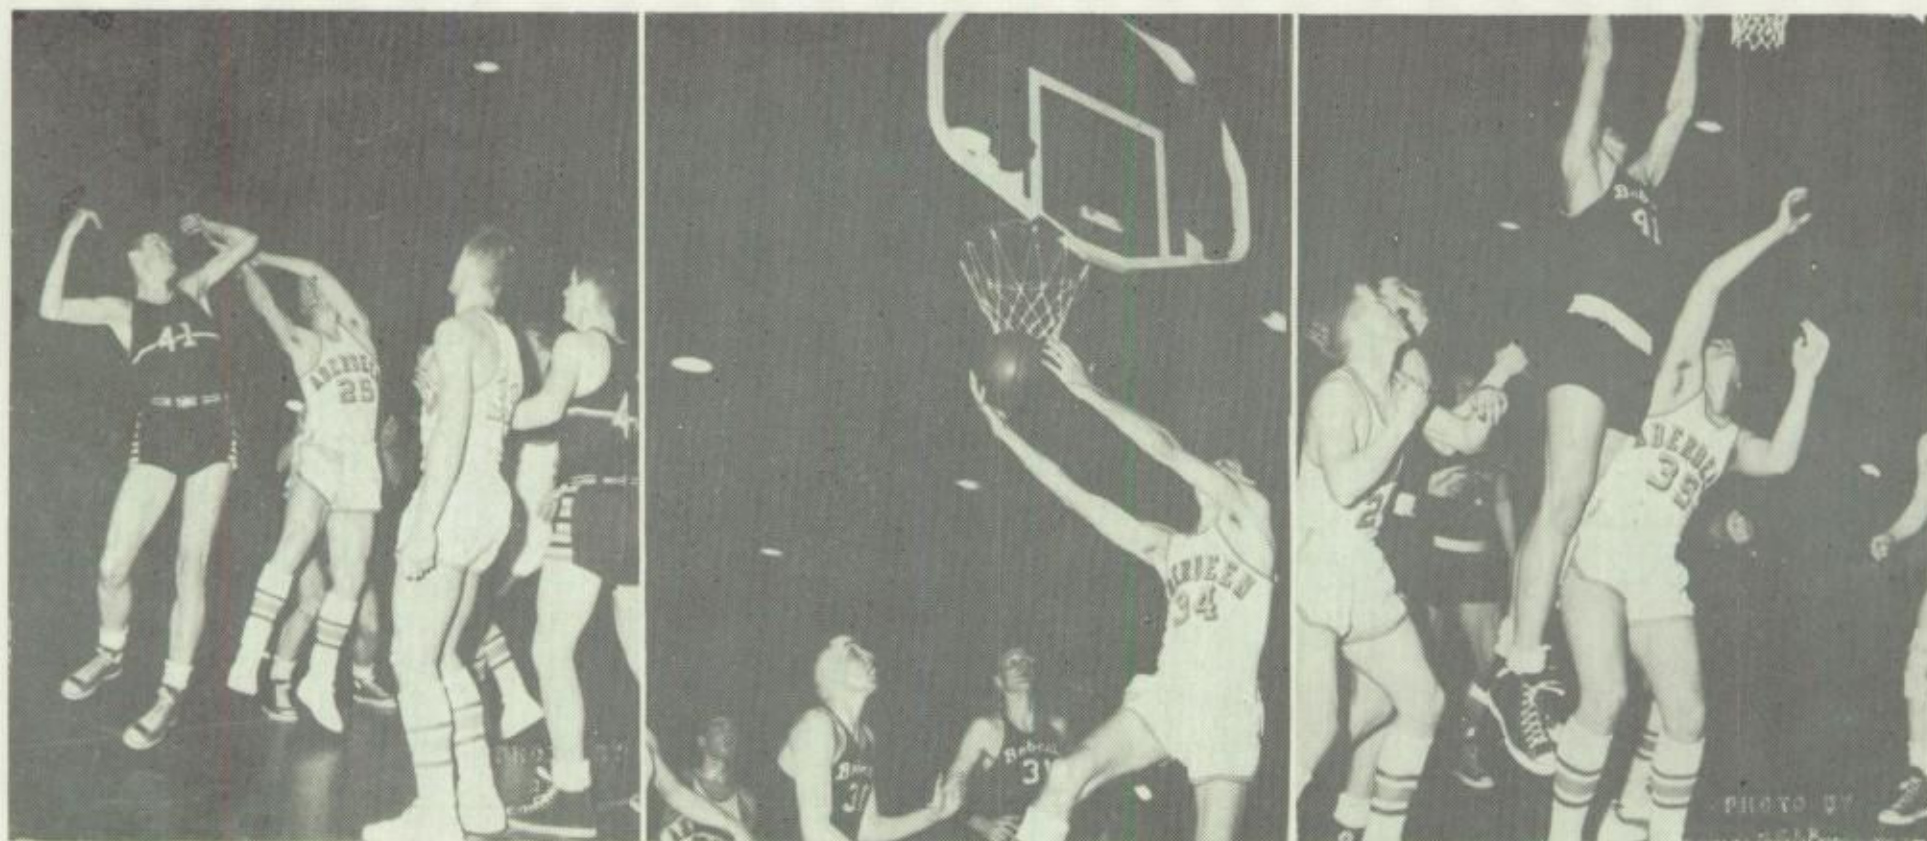

EAGLES DOWN BOBCATS

A rapidly improving Eagle crew proved tough opposition for Brookings, as they dropped the "cats" 64-55. The Eagles increased their halftime lead of 32-26 to a 44-32 margin at the third quarter mark. The host team couldn't get any closer than eight points in the last quarter, and fell to a team which completely outplayed them. Holgate's 21 point total was top for Aberdeen.

ARROWS THWART EAGLES

The Golden Eagles dropped their second game of the season as Watertown's Arrows drubbed the cold shooting Hub City quint 47-39. Aberdeen fell behind from the start, and unable to hit the hoop, trailed 24-18 at the midway mark. After fighting to a 33-27 third quarter deficit the Eagles made a final bid with four minutes remaining to make it 41-38. A missed rebound broke the Eagles hopes and the determined rally fell short. Holgate copped 10 for the losers.

EAGLES CRUSH BUCKS

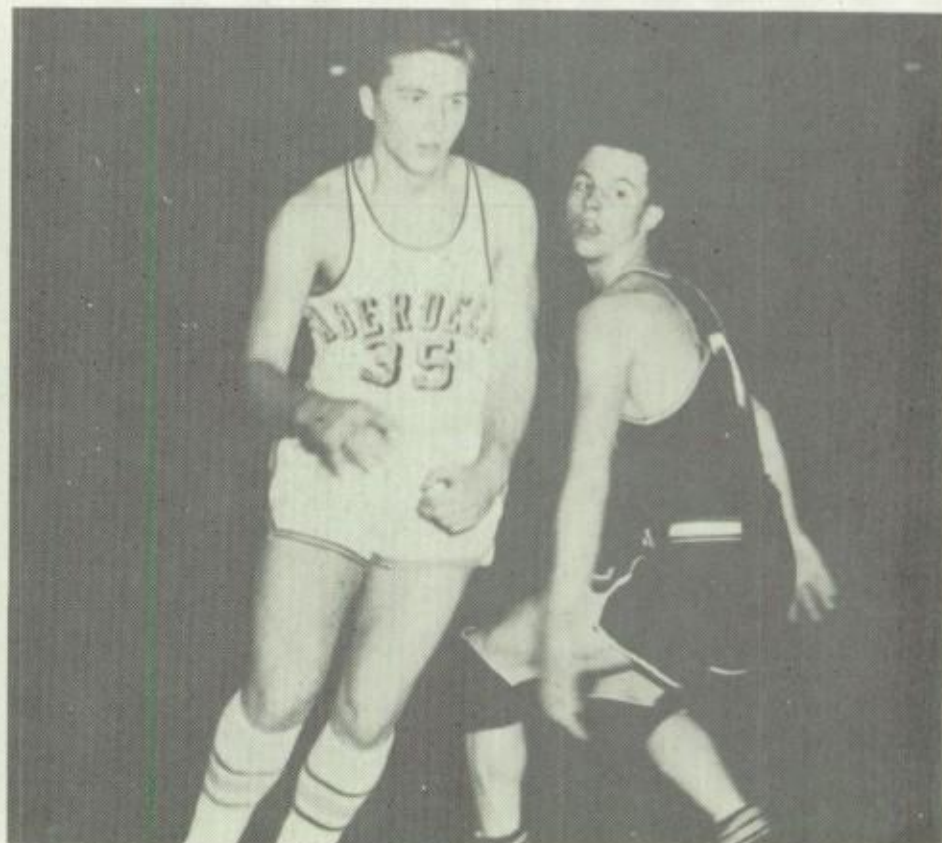

Only in the first quarter did Yankton offer any serious threat to the Eagles as they sizzled to a 22-15 lead. A brilliant offensive attack in the second stanza enabled Aberdeen to obtain a 45-37 advantage at halftime and a 67-49 margin after three periods. Eagles replacements finished out the latter part of the encounter and they pushed ahead to a 81-69 triumph. Holgate counted 28 points for the highest scoring night of his career.

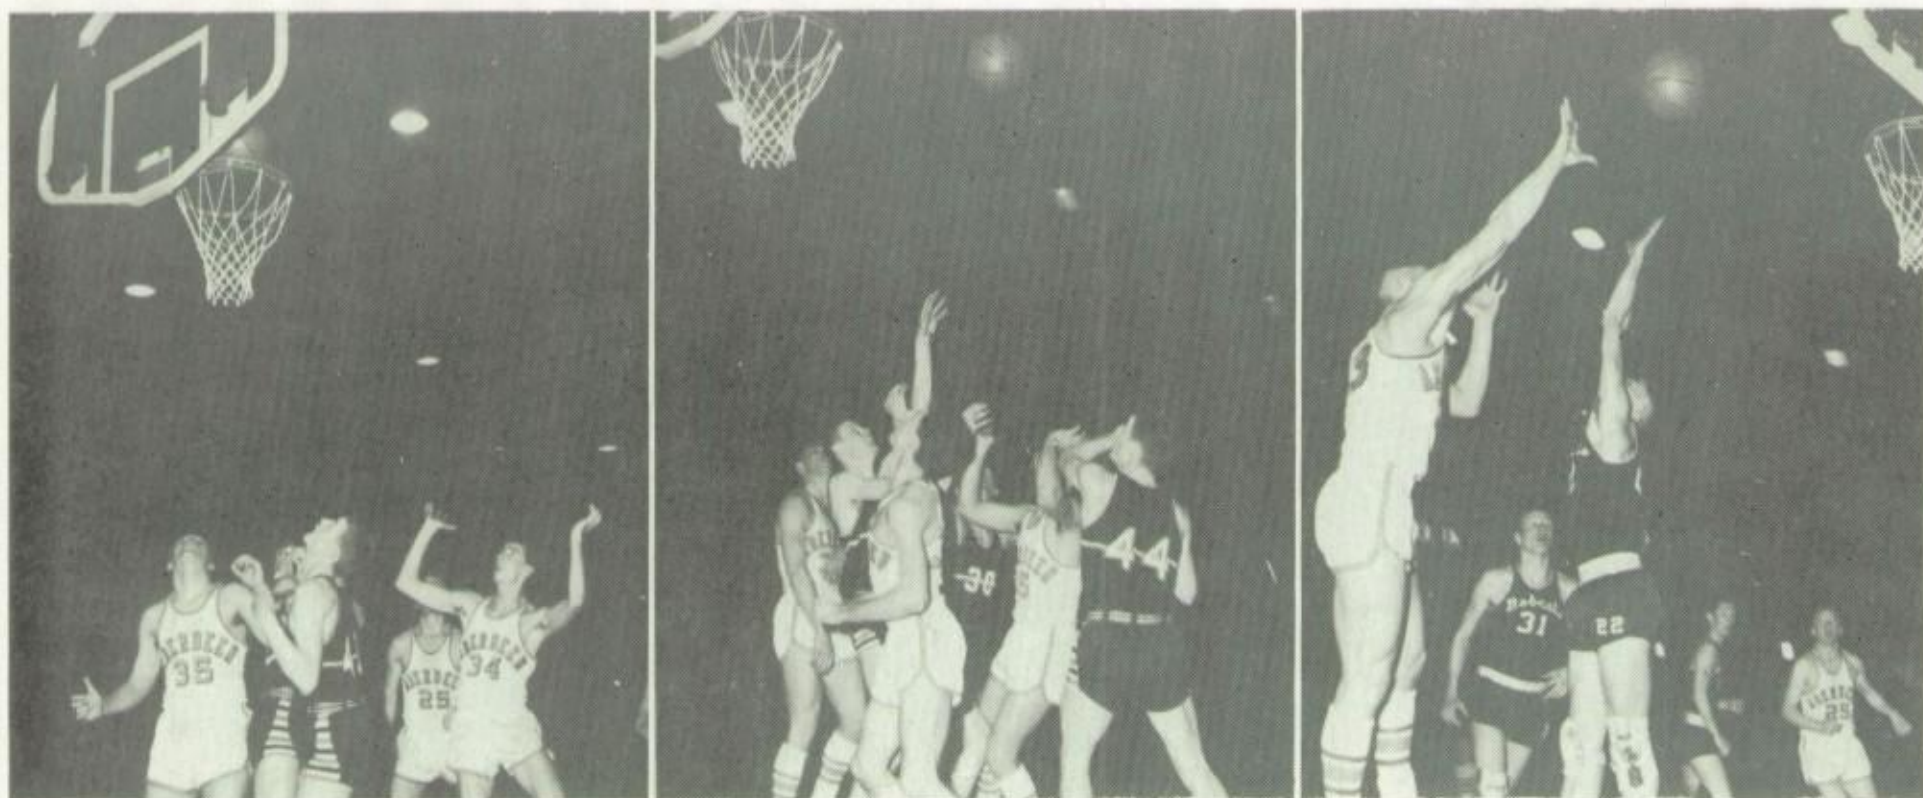

EAGLES TRIP TIGERS

A zone defense proved no longer to be a problem for Mylo Jackson's quint as they continued their mastery over Huron by defeating them for the second time 65-58. Fouls hurt the Tigers, who lost three men and trailed 26-24 at intermission. Huron emerged with a 13-11 advantage at the end of the first chapter but fell behind 42-36 with one stanza left. Improved marksmanship and brilliant passing assisted Central's victory. Holgate dumped in 23 points for the winning cause.

EAGLES EDGE KERNELS

Two teams battled evenly through all quarters until a bucket by Ed Blando 13 seconds remaining gave the Eagles a 54-52 win over the Mitchell Kernels. The 54-52 triumph was inspired by the Eagles' biggest rally of the year. Trailing 29-17 with four minutes to go in the second quarter, the Eagles sparked to a 29-29 tie at the half and went ahead 33-29. The Eagles' defense tightened after falling behind 37-39 at the third period and then the determined rally was performed. Holgate was high man for Aberdeen with 18 points.

BULLDOGS DRUB EAGLES

An earlier season victory over Aberdeen was repeated when Madison, playing the same brand of ball it had displayed before, broke an Aberdeen rally to win 59-51. Aberdeen led 29-25 at the half, but saw the Bulldogs take a 41-42 margin going into the final period. The Eagles were doing well through the first minutes of play posting a 22-13 score for the first quarter. After this the Bulldogs iced Aberdeen's efforts until a late drive in the final stanza tied the contest twice. Rebounding strength caused the Eagles set-back in the few remaining minutes. Eagle forward Holgate sank 20 points.

WARRIORS DEFEAT EAGLES

Sioux Falls clinched the Eastern Conference basketball championship when they overpowered the Golden Eagles 72-52. The Warriors were definitely seeking revenge for an earlier season defeat by Aberdeen and drove ahead from the opening minutes to obtain a 39-22 halftime advantage. Aberdeen was unable to hit against the Warrior zone defense and fell behind 58-33 at the third quarter. Inaccuracy at the gift stripe proved to be the Eagles greatest fault. Peterson was top man with 12 points.

EAGLES WHIP BOBCATS

Aberdeen closed its home schedule with a 70-50 triumph over Brookings. The Eagles dominated play throughout the entire contest leading at all quarter stops. Aberdeen rolled to a 20-9 margin in the first and jumped to a 39-24 halftime lead. The cold Bobcats netted only seven points in the third quarter and the Eagles pulled away by 20 points 51-31. Vikander scored 16 points for Aberdeen.

EAGLES UPSET ARROWS

A fitting climax to a fine court year was seen in the last ESD encounter as they dropped the Watertown Arrows 67-63. The Eagles played all the way, functioning well on both offense and defense. The game was close in the opening minutes but Aberdeen surged ahead 14-10 in the first canto and 30-18 by the half. After posting a 49-38 third period score, frenzied fans during the last minutes had hopes of an upset as the Arrows netted three quick baskets. However, Aberdeen never relinquished their lead and tied for runner-up honors in conference play. Peterson led the Eagles quint with 17 points.

EAGLES THUMP PHEASANTS

Central's Eagles easily fought off a nervous Redfield quint 75-43 to cop first round section 3 honors. Aberdeen blasted to a 20-2 quarter mark and stayed well in front with scores of 36-15 and 57-29 at the period stops. The Pheasants found the hoop in the final half, but the Eagles lead was too massive for them to form a definite scare. Accurate passing coupled with fast breaks, soared the Eagles score. Peterson paced the Eagles quint with 15 points.

EAGLES DROP COWBOYS

Aberdeen battled its way into the State 'A' tournament by trouncing Lemmon 55-41. It was the Eagles game from the start, and after an early 4-4 deadlock, they sliced to a 18-13 first period lead and absolute control of the contest. The Cowboys were unable to rally a 34-22 halftime deficit and fell farther behind, 40-34 at the third quarter mark. Holgate and Peterson shared scoring honors with 18 points apiece.

EAGLES OUST BOBCATS

Aberdeen won a first round victory over Brookings 56-41 to open its State 'A' tournament performance. The Eagles led all the way to chalk up their third victory of the season over the Bobcats. After a 13-5 advantage at the end of the first period, the Eagles maintained the pace to build a 26-15 midway mark, and a 37-21 point edge after three quarters. Aberdeen's superb passing and rebounding again was outstanding. Peterson's 18 points topped Aberdeen scoring.

EAGLES OVERPOWER TROJANS

In this game the Golden Eagles played their best ball of the year. Expecting to give the Hub City quint a severe lacing, Parkston early found it had a fight on its hands. A tough Eagle offense consistently bottled-up the Trojans high-powered scoring machine. The near perfect Eagles had a 16-10 first quarter lead and drove to 29-19 halftime advantage. The third stanza saw the Eagles increase the count to a 46-26 margin and they were in complete command for the remaining minutes, ending with a 71-36 triumph. Vikander was top scorer with 22 points.

WARRIORS BEAT EAGLES

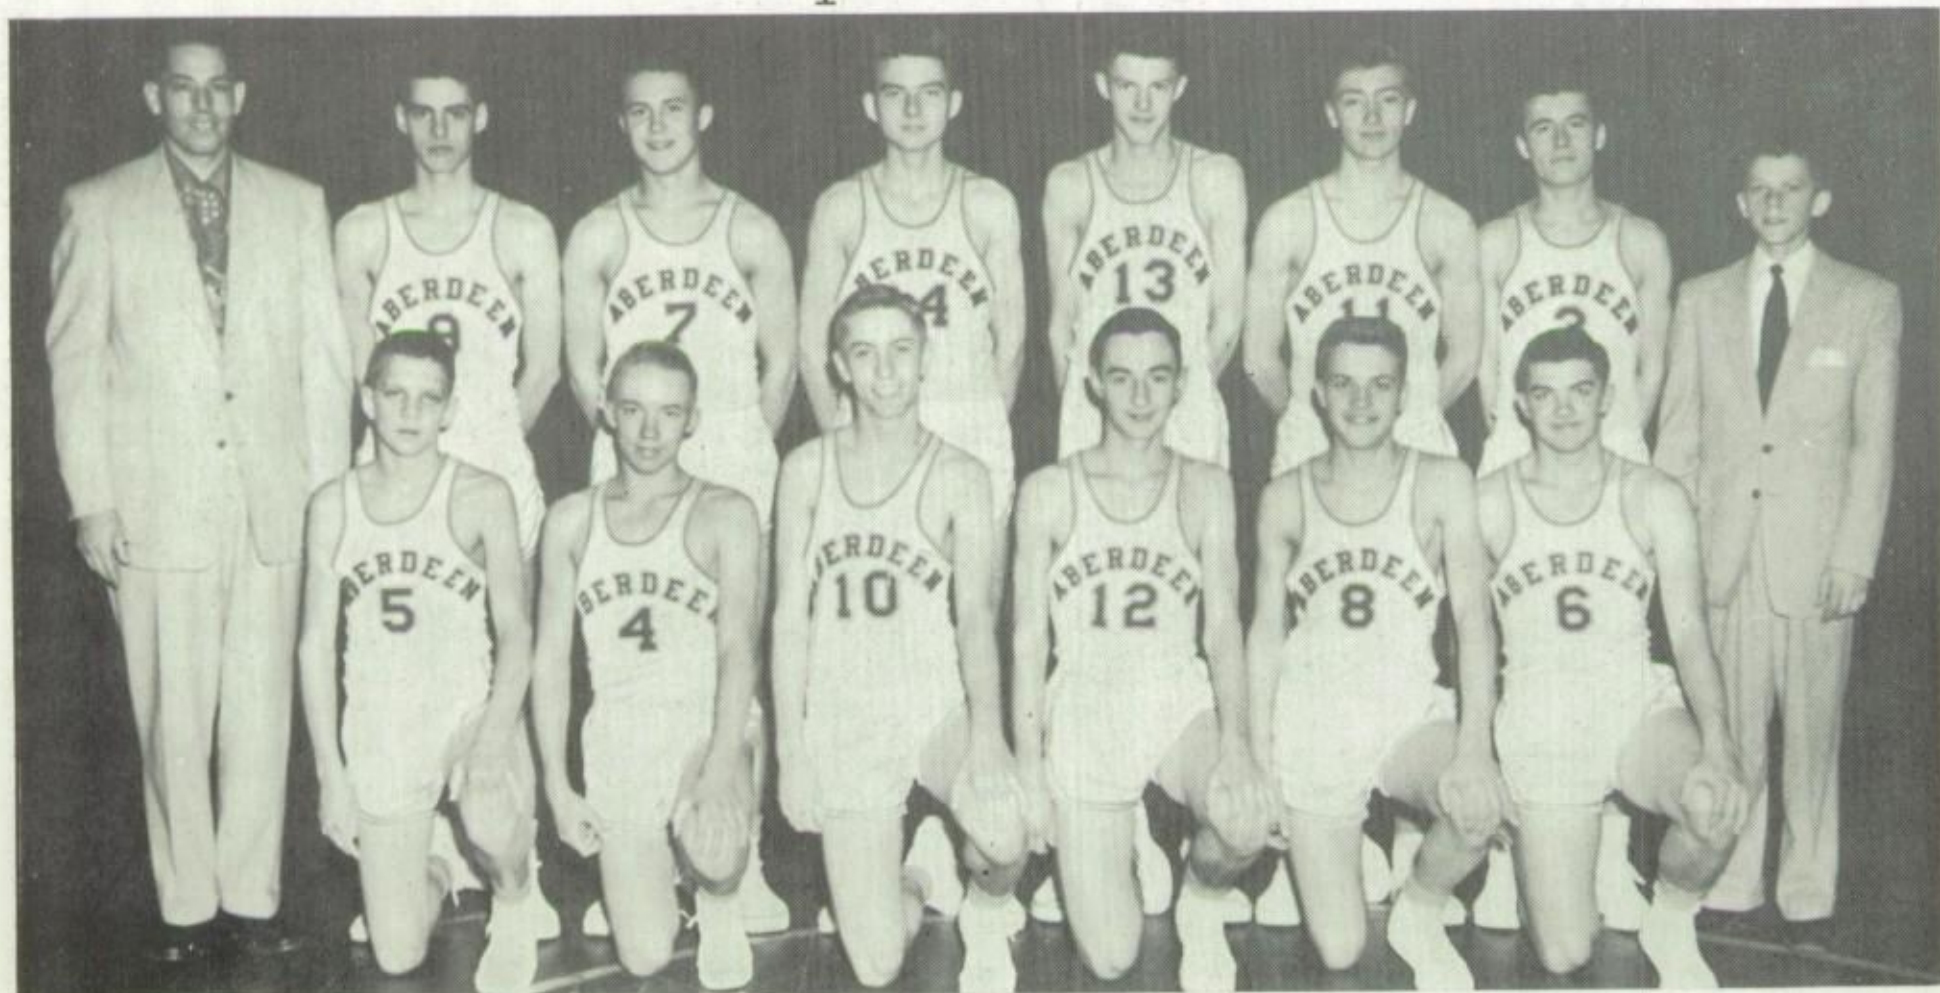

"Of all the games to lose, why this one?" was the general comment of Aberdeen fans after our Eagles fell to a most inspired Sioux Falls quint 67-50 in the championship tussle. The Warriors had a 18-17 lead at the first charter mark, but the Eagles managed to nip by 29-28 at intermission. Surging back, Sioux Falls pulled to a 44-37 third quarter score. Senior forward, Ron Holgate, ended his high school basketball career with a 20 point performance.

Early in the school year Central's G.A.A. chose three seniors to preside as officers throughout the year. They were: Shirley Henning, president; Pat Langeland, vice-president; and Linda Dewhirst, reporter. These officers worked with Miss Amacher on such issues as scheduling the sports events for the year and setting up the entire yearly program for the association. They were also in charge of planning the G.A.A. picnic which was held late in April. Funds for this activity were obtained through a thirty cent assessment from each member.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association was divided into five teams that participated in basketball and volley ball. Teams and their captains were: Dahl's Dolls - Carole Dahl; Centralites - Norma Crawford; Blue Jays - Darlys Wenck; Commets - Darlys Hale; and Rockettes - Kathleen Heidershal. Dear Roger,

This is the first year that I hated to see the year end. When I think of all the fun we had in band and how wonderful the kids are it just doesn't seem possible that there can be such another group of kids. You have really been a great asset to the Band and its really going to miss you. I only hope that my new friends in California will be as tops as you and the rest have been. To me, you have been one of the outstanding Seniors this year. Keep up the good work on the Cornet as I know you will. Remember if you ever go out around San Diego don't hesitate to visit us. Here's good luck to a real, real swell guy.
